PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

REVEREND THOMAS J.
SHIELDS, S.J., President of Jesuit High School.

TO THE CLASS OF '56 —

Jesuit High School bids farewell to the Senior Class of 1956, and it does this with real esteem for you graduates and with hopeful prayers for your future. You started in this school as little boys four years ago. You leave your Alma Mater as men;—young men, it is true, but men withal—for in addition to your physical growth during your high school years you have achieved a maturity of judgment, an outlook of intellect and a firmness of will characteristic of true manhood. Above all, you have engraved on your souls an appreciation of the real meaning and purpose of your life before God. This has been the objective of your teachers and this has been achieved with your cooperation.

The Faculty and Staff of Jesuit High School join with me in the prayer that God may bestow upon each and every one of you a full measure of success and happiness in whatever be your chosen walk of life so that living as cultured Catholic American gentlemen in accord with the Divine Will of God you may at the end have the happiness of life eternal.

FORREST L. INGRAM

The President and Faculty of
THE JESUIT HIGH SCHOOL OF DALLAS, TEXAS

Extend to all who shall behold this document

Greetings in the Lord

WHEREAS: His Excellency, the Most Reverend Joseph Patrick Lynch, of happy memory, founded the Bishop Lynch trophy for the purpose of honoring with special distinction the student of Jesuit High School who has most faithfully reflected the spirit of the school and has been most responsive to its influences; and,

WHEREAS: Velton J. Boudreaux, Jr., Thomas Gerhard Fuechtmann, and Forrest Leo Ingram, graduates of the Class of 1956, have, by the manliness and refinement of their personality, by their superior scholastic attainment, by the credit they have reflected on the school in the qualities of their spiritual leadership, by their excellence in extracurricular activities, and by the unselfish dedication of themselves to the betterment of the school, won the respect, the confidence, and the affection of all who have come within the sphere of their influence, and,

WHEREAS: The faculty of Jesuit High School, after due consideration, has found them eminently worthy of this distinction and honor;

THEREFORE: Because of their signal merits, by the authority of our office and with the concurrence of the faculty of Jesuit High School, we hereby declare:

VELTIN J. BOUDREAUX, JR., THOMAS GERHARD FUECHTMANN

and FORREST LEO INGRAM

worthy to be awarded the Bishop Lynch Trophy for the year of Our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-six.

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL

Prudence requires that the faculty of a high school use restraint in praising its graduates. Classes that have gone before and classes that are to follow may be hurt if the same is not said of them. I think it best, therefore, to avoid all comparisons and content myself with this considered judgement of the men of '56:

If Jesuit never graduates a finer class, she can be well content with her sons. If one had to select for comment your outstanding characteristic, I think it would be an intelligent, Christlike attitude of responsibility toward your work, your school, and the world. You came as close to being adults in Christ as boys can come without ceasing to be boys. You accepted partnership with the faculty; and, as a result, the school took a long step toward obliterating the cops-and-robbers relationship that has long reduced high school education, for many students and teachers, to a silly, frustrating game.

What will you be? If you will be what you are, you give us every right to great expectations in Christ. May He go with you!

PROPHECY

I sit alone in a haunted shack
And gaze into the cauldron black
And watch the bubbles rise and fall,
Throwing shadows on the wall.

All night I sit on a pad of snails
And scream out cackles and loud wails,
While still the bubbles in the pot
Rise and fall and grow more hot.

The potion rages furiously;
The bubbles burst exuberantly.
As each one breaks, a prophecy
Of this year's seniors come to me.

And here they are—

The crowd salutes at ALVIN'S grand arrival.
(This Holy Roller runs his own revival.)

DENNY ANDERS' trumpet brought him fame;
From band directors he won wide acclaim.

Ten-foot-two JIM LOVER grew to be,
The tallest man the world did ever see.

BIASATTI aids all those who dine
By working in Siberia's great salt mine.

GLASCO'S leading roles have not got blunter;
He's grandly playing opposite Tab Hunter.

SODEMAN of cager fame now cleans
The windows on the second floor at GREEN'S.

TOMMY RUWALDT searches Highland Park
To find a girl to marry who won't bark.

JOE HARBRECHT, full of zeal and energy,
Is now head man of Irving's A&P.

JACK FIEDLER now is down at Texas U.
And runs the bookstore on that campus, too.

CLAIBORNE (with his ruler) 'came a loon
As he tried to judge the distance to the moon.

KRISCHKE loved the game of football most;
For Cleveland now he holds the mascot post.

ADDALLAH soon became our President;
However, it must have been an accident.

BARBAZON'S and HOPP'S sound minds did spring!
They run America's narcotics' ring.

JAMES REEVES, a zealous and industrious fella,
Has taken over Beauty's "Slenderella!"

TOMMY DURBIN is a family man;
He met his wife at Texas A&M.

McKEOWN drives the fastest trucks in town.
Another Casey Jones, he gets around.

McCLOSKEY every year receives applause;
He has become "the big new" Santa Claus.

BOB BAKER, with his clarinet in hand,
Went up to Canada to join a band.

The crowd cheered loud when SEELIGSON did land
All the Reds he captured—single hand.

LOVELACE now is rolling in the dough;
He operates a bakery on Skid Row.

JOHN GOODMAN'S meeting people more and more;
He's selling heating pads from door to door.

BOUDREAUX now in Scotland is an earl
Because he taught young Malcolm how to twirl.

BOB TAPIA was surely a surprise;
To seven feet the little man did rise.

JIM HARTLEY spins the platters for the Cats.
His job is paying well, so now he's fat.

JIM KAVANAGH has gone across the sea;
In China he established A&P.

ARNOLD HADEN was the Bowling Champ,
But now he has become a wandering tramp.

JERRY FOLTYN always was a shark;
Somenow, he bought the Midway at Fair Park

GARY JOHNSON, full of vim and vigor,
Is in the hospital—he was bit by a chigger.

FRANK MARLOW now is in an institution,
For going to Cuba and starting a revolution.

For SKERRITT classes always were a bore;
So now he leaves things early, as before.

BLOCKER, whiskey, used to like to drink—
He made his own and now is in the clink.

RON FULTON made for nails a noiseless clipper
And now is working on a liquor-dripper

JOE TIMMERMAN, who crossed two wires for friction,
Is making millions writing science fiction.

DAVID ANCELIN liked to have his fun,
But he went off to war, and now he is done.

In Tennessee McDERMOTT'S fame is known,
And so the business for his still has grown.

JIM OBST, with his "congrubative" words,
Wrote a dictionary—for the birds.

JACK OSTER took a vote of confidence;
He's premier of the Spanish Governments.

TOMMY MEYER'S working days are past,
So in the sun of Florida he basks.

ROTELLO follows his divine profession—
He listens to the students' true confessions.

ANDRUSS loves to toot his big bass horn;
He wears it through the night to early morn.

ROD HOOPER plans a pilot soon to be;
He'll fly the fastest jet beneath the sea.

BUZZ CRUTCHER has thrown Hollywood asunder;
He now stars in "Son of Son of Thunder."

DABOUB will find his fame in politics;
As Dictator of Brazil, he knows all tricks.

PAT COWDIN has his own construction crew,
And does now what his father used to do.

WARREN MILLER tried for many years,
But lost all tennis matches, it appears.

DOUG KELLEY, one of those dependable men,
Now in England sets the clock, Big Ben.

J. INGRAM and J. ZIPPER have allied;
On a farm in Plano they reside.

VILLEREAL can run the mile in four,
But the A.A.U. now knocks on his front door.

EDDY PITA liked to teach, and so
He joined the Jesuits at Grand Coteau.

JOHN BECKER in the spotlight boldly walks;
As Speaker of the House, he bravely talks!

JOHN EURY tries to please his charming wife
And at North Dallas leads a Principal's life.

TOM FUECHTMANN will although he's old and lame,
Be always ready for a football game.

The NEWS observed CADE'S sketches—all free hand!
He fills the boots of Bill McClanahan.

JACK SCHAEFER now has many age old wrinkles;
He truly is the modern Rip Van Winkle.

JIM WORKS has gone to live in old Kentucky
And operates the races in that country.

At the STATLER-HILTON ROBERTS stands;
He makes the finest doorman in these lands.

FOLZENLOGEN raised a family
And now has kids from one to twenty-three.

HECTOR RUIZ filled his life's ambition
By taking Ashburn's centerfield position.

BILLY SCHARES, the farmer, thought of something new—
He plowed his fields with his new N.S.U.

RALPH TOVAR teaches Ruwaldt and Rotello
Spanish, in which both are very low.

RICHARDSON with Ley will blast off soon
On their expedition to the moon.

BILL HODGES added hours to the day.
"One needs no time for sleep," Ole Bill would say.

ROBERT WHITE, a card he used to be,
Now marks the decks for CONGRESS ardently.

F. INGRAM was a fiend for comic books,
And now he's head of all the U.S. crooks.

For LOVELAND now the bones have rolled his way;
He wrote a book called DICE THE EASY WAY.

PARKERSON for Africa has left
To teach the other apes the treble clef.

Golf was always RAYMOND PATAK'S game;
His swinging clubs have brought him grandest fame.

FAGIN lived so far from town, you see,
I cannot tell his secret prophecy.

GIARD'S bursting bubble, Hawaiian tongued,
Tells that there George has reached the highest rung.

JIM MATULA'S prophecy faded while I sat,
For that part of the kettle was hidden by my bat.

Blip! Blop! Bloop!

CORKY CLARK, true to his name,
Gained his fame, bottling champagne.

Flip! Flap! Floop!

C. WILSON'S got his wings;
He's left for higher things.

Blup! Blup!

SALVADOR
Drafted o'er (the sea).

Glup! Glup!

SWAIN:
Slain.

Blip!

At last the bubbles in the pot
Sink and die and now are not;
Across the floor a spider hops
And climbs the wall and stops . . . and drops
To spin a web of destiny
Obscuring further prophecy.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

WHEREAS:

We, the Senior class of Jesuit High School of the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-six, do perceive that our days in this tomb are inevitably numbered, and

WHEREAS:

We are possessed of most excellent mind and body as is evidenced by the fact that we have survived thus far at all;

THEREFORE:

We do ordain and decree as of the first day of May that the following be submitted as the Last Will and Testament of the graduating class:

First, to Jesuit High School we leave our undying loyalty and devotion.

Second, to all members of the faculty we leave our most sincere gratitude for the efforts they have expended on our behalf in the last four years.

And finally, to and as individuals, we bequeath the following:

PAUL SODEMAN leaves his height to Mickey Mooney.

RONNIE VILLAREAL leaves a pair of hair clippers to his little brother.

FRANK MARLOW leaves for Joe and Larry's Snack Bar to pick up Musso.

JERRY FAGIN leaves his size 13 shoes to Bert Semtner.

HECTOR RUIZ leaves his vats of shoe polish to Magro's white bucks.

CORKY CLARK leaves for Hillcrest to pick up Beth.

JACK FIEDLER leaves in his shot-rod for Texas U.

VELTIN BOUDREAUX leaves his five bent batons to Steve Sellers, Jim Hopp, and Bill Thornton.

BOB TAPIA leaves his Fairlane to the squares of '57.

CHARLIE WILSON leaves Coach Schaener a place to fill on the relay team.

We don't know why JOHN BECKER'S leaving; he hasn't said anything in four years.

JOHN EURY tried to leave but ran over Fr. Kissinger on the way out.

NORMAN ABDALLAH leaves his place in the alphabet to Paul Ackels.

DOUGLAS KELLEY forgot to come so he could leave.

JERRY FOLTYN leaves to Mr. Ortega the only two words he knows in Spanish, "Adios, Amigo."

TOMMY RUWALDT leaves his Mighty-Joe-Young antics to Mickey Koller.

ED McCLOSKEY leaves his deep baritone voice to John Thurmond.

TONY DABOUB leaves his "most political" title to Dan O'Shea.

CECIL PARKERSON is not old enough to leave.

CLAUDE BARBAZON leaves his barbells to Noel Deramee.

BOB WHITE leaves his right elbow to be divided equally between Ralph Dodson and Pete Mycue.

PAT McDERMOTT leaves in the same pair of socks he came in.

JAMES REEVES leaves his effervescent personality to Mike Carr.

HENRY SEELIGSON leaves the painted radiator to Adolph Canales.

ERNEST TEER doesn't leave—he just got here.

JOHN GOODMAN leaves his can of green paint to the future 4B to touch up their chipped walls.

PAUL FOLZENLOGEN leaves without paying his class dues for four years.

BARRY LOVELACE leaves his Model-T Ford to the Jesuit Transportation Fund.

JIM INGRAM leaves his King James Bible to Mr. Miller, S.J.

JOE BIASATTI leaves for The School, taking his four-year ticket with him.

JIM WORKS leaves his nose to Mr. Larose's dissection table.

JACK SCHAEFER leaves "George" (the tackle dummy) to Allan Cooper to take to and from practice every day.

TOMMY MEYER leaves a complete set of false teeth to any teacher who is in need.

JOE TIMMERMAN leaves for L.G.C. and Bonnie.

EDDIE PITA leaves Mr. Ortega without an interpreter.

TOMMY DURBIN and PHILIP SWAIN leave for Aggieland, hoping their hood stays on this time.

JIM KAVANAGH leaves his place in the Glee Club to anyone who can carry a tune.

TONY HOPP leaves his cigarette lighter to the trophy case (in retirement).

CLAIBORNE JOHNSON can't find anyone good enough to leave anything of his to.

FELIX ROTELLO leaves his mild-mannered laugh to Terry O'Donnell.

FORREST INGRAM leaves his startling perspicacity to Sam Lomonaco.

PAT COWDIN leaves his Dennis-the-Menace cowlick to Fred Schaeffer.

ROD HOOPER, DAVE ANCELIN, and ARNOLD HADEN leave their innumerable extracurriculars to be divided equally among the underclassmen.

ED KRISCHKE leaves early to get to Sunset by 3:45.

TOMMY FUECHTMANN leaves with a keg of beer for der gute Deutschland, where they can spell his name.

JERRY ZIPPER leaves the Jesuit Cafe to John Biasatti.

JOE SALVADOR leaves his bass drum because he can't get it through the door.

BILL LINDLEY leaves his car parked in the "No Parking" zone.

MIKE SKERRITT leaves his fabulous attentiveness to Danny Wewer.

JIM MATULA leaves 4C still fighting over passes to the South Loop.

DENNY ANDERS leaves his Drill Lieutenancy to

Paul Schmitz along with the necessary two-way ticket to boot camp.

JIM OBST leaves his severely-regimented Sodality to Father Tynan.

We leave JERRY CADE still making posters for Father San Marco.

JACK OSTER leaves the P.A. system to Charlie Lundquist's crystal voice.

JOE HARBRECHT leaves two pounds to each Junior without ever noticing it.

PAT LOVELAND leaves the birthplace of his only Letterjacket with a tear of sorrow.

RON FULTON threatens to leave with everything not nailed down.

AL LOSTETTER leaves Hanna, Munchrath, and O'Reilly with a long walk to school.

GORDON GLASCO leaves for his four o'clock tea engagement.

RICHARD ANDRUSS leaves his tuba to Louis McDonald.

JIMMY HARTLEY leaves the halls of Jesuit echoing with his garrulousness.

TOM McKEOWN leaves to join his friends in the Methodist Ministry.

GEORGE GIARD leaves for the University of Hawaii (with Gretchen).

MIKE RICHARDSON leaves Mr. Larose all his science-fiction novels.

JIM LOVER leaves his tall Stetson to Father May.

BILLY SCHARES leaves on his hopped-up cycle that shoots off like a gun.

JIM BLOCKER leaves his inexhaustible supply of beer to his younger brother, Bob.

RAY PATAP can't leave; he hasn't come back from his last trip to the golf course.

BILL HODGES leaves—bumming a ride in Johnson's tomb.

GARY JOHNSON leaves his battered, white track shoes to next year's track team.

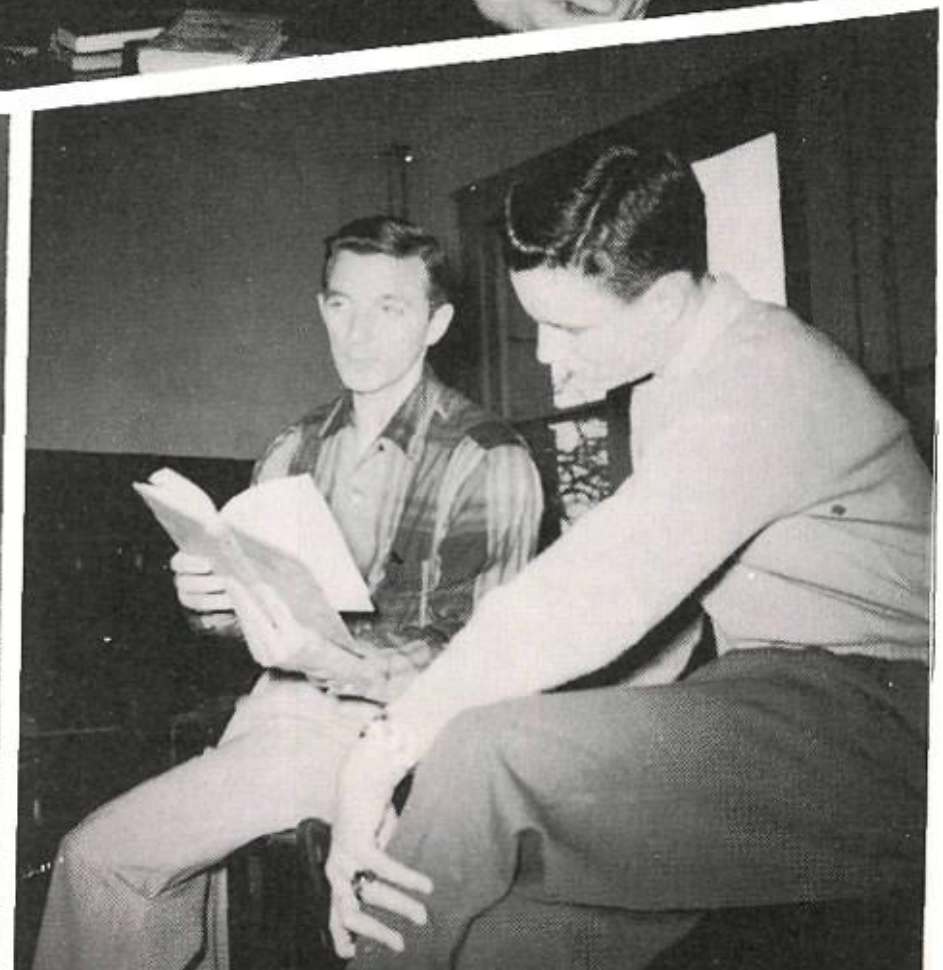

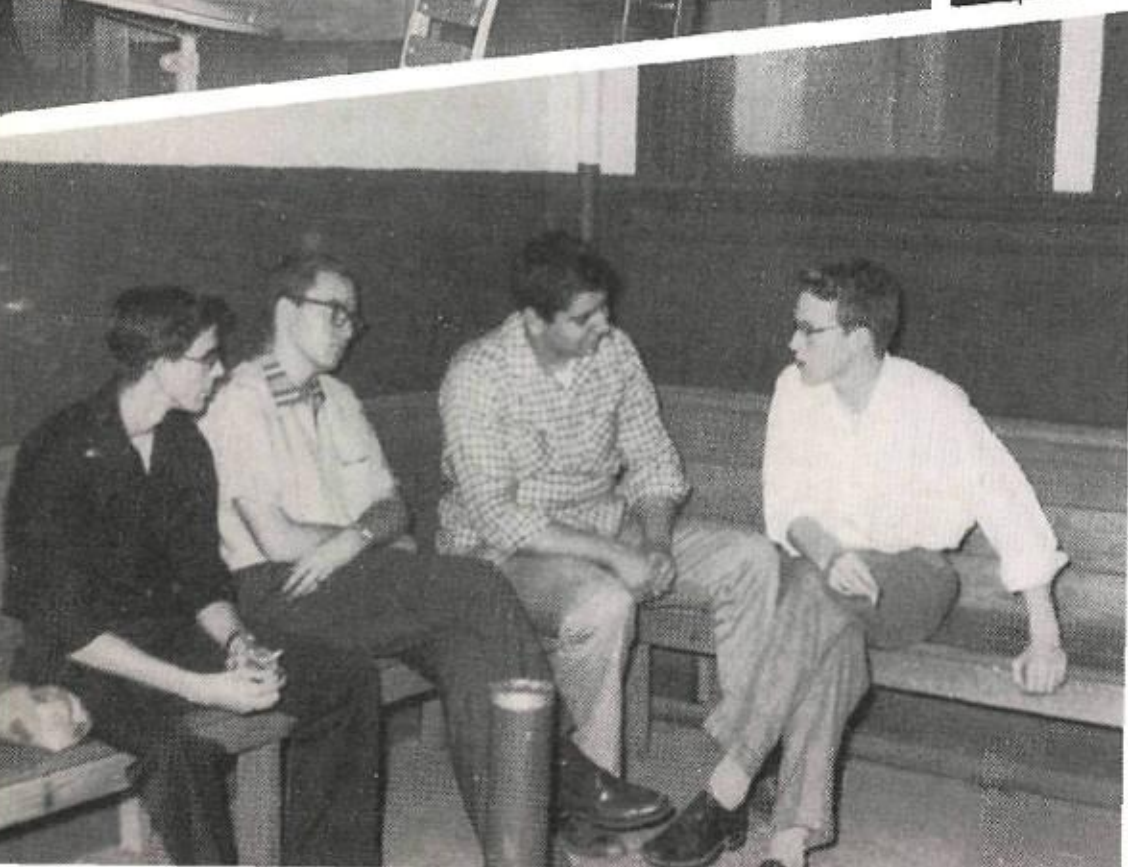

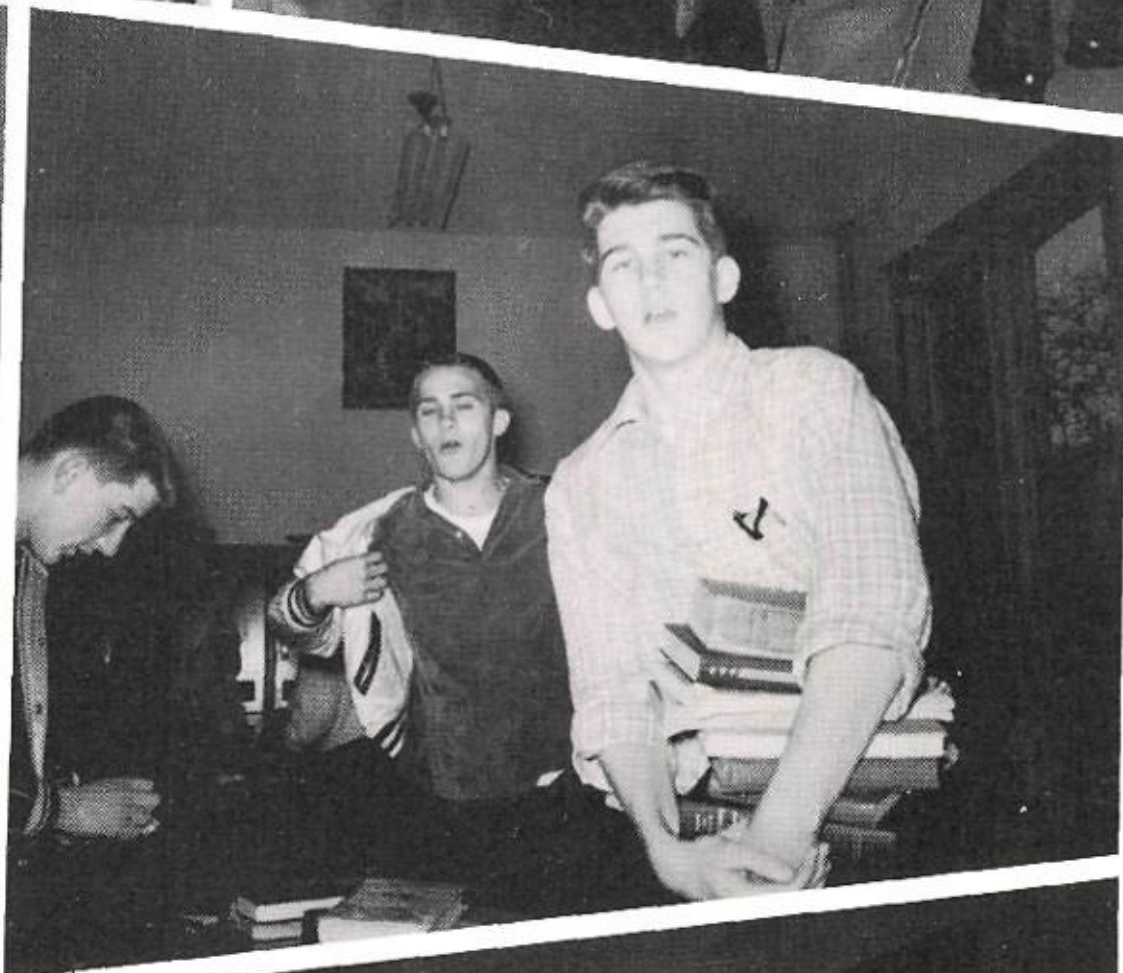

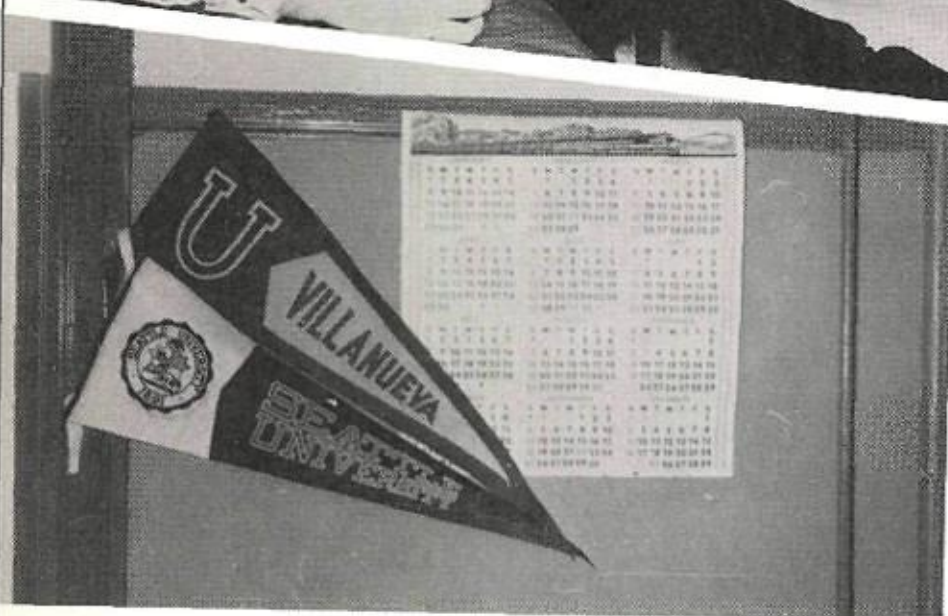

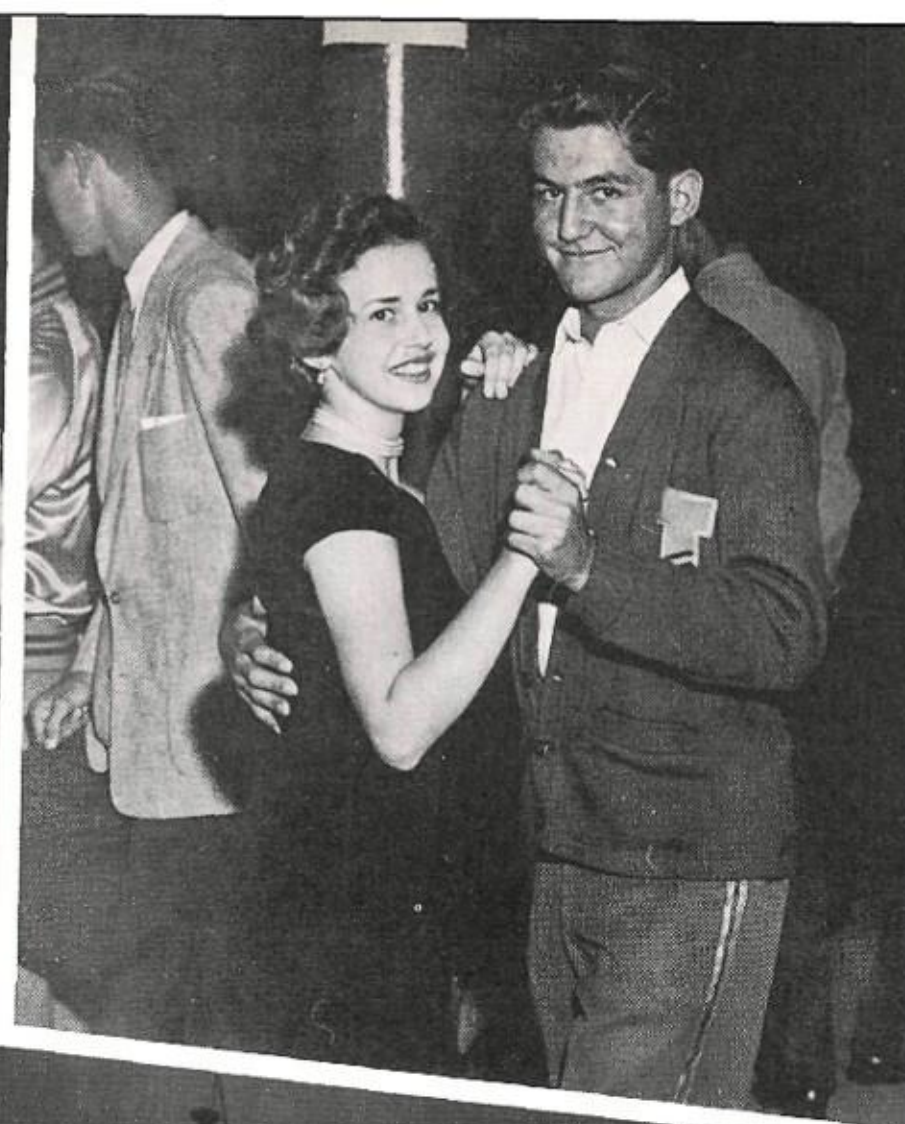

HARRY ROBERTS leaves the Phil burdened with his heavy character portrayals.

WARREN MILLER leaves his newly-repaired car to his little brother to tear up in the next two years.

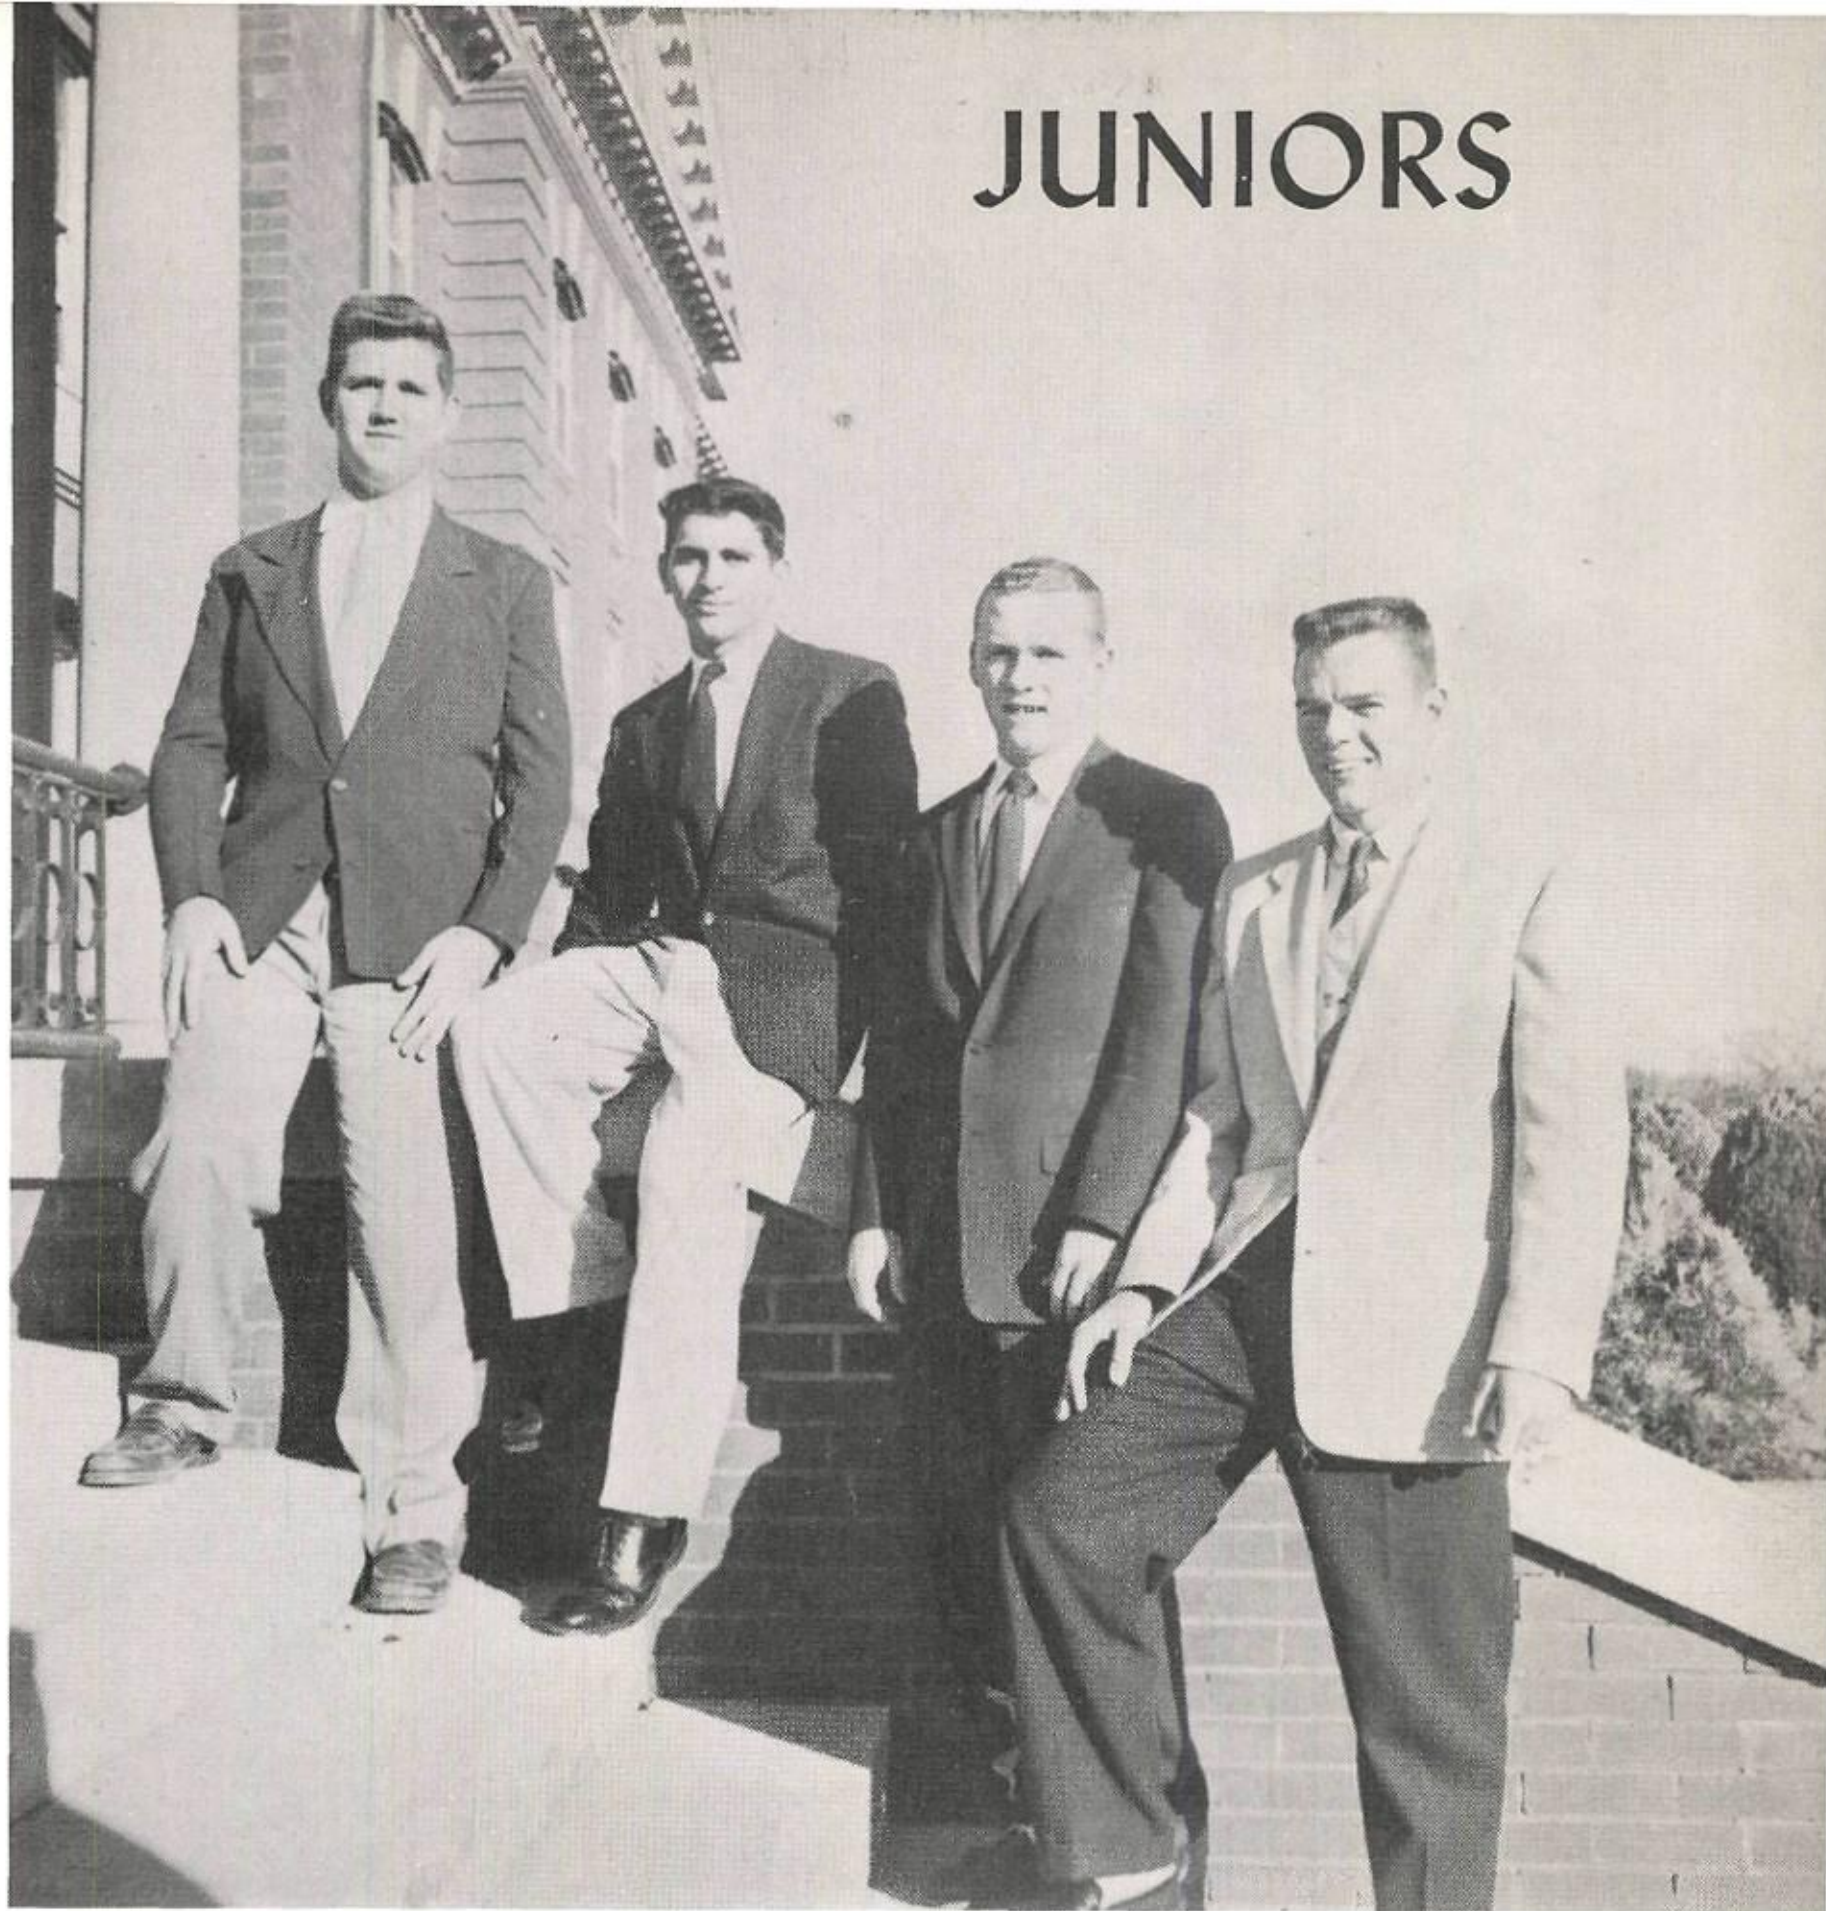

BOB BARKER leaves the Band no worse for wear.

RALPH TOVAR leaves Father San Marco with nobody to look down on.

We all leave BUZZ CRUTCHER to the very last, where he really belongs.

CLASS OF '57

by ADOLPH CANALES

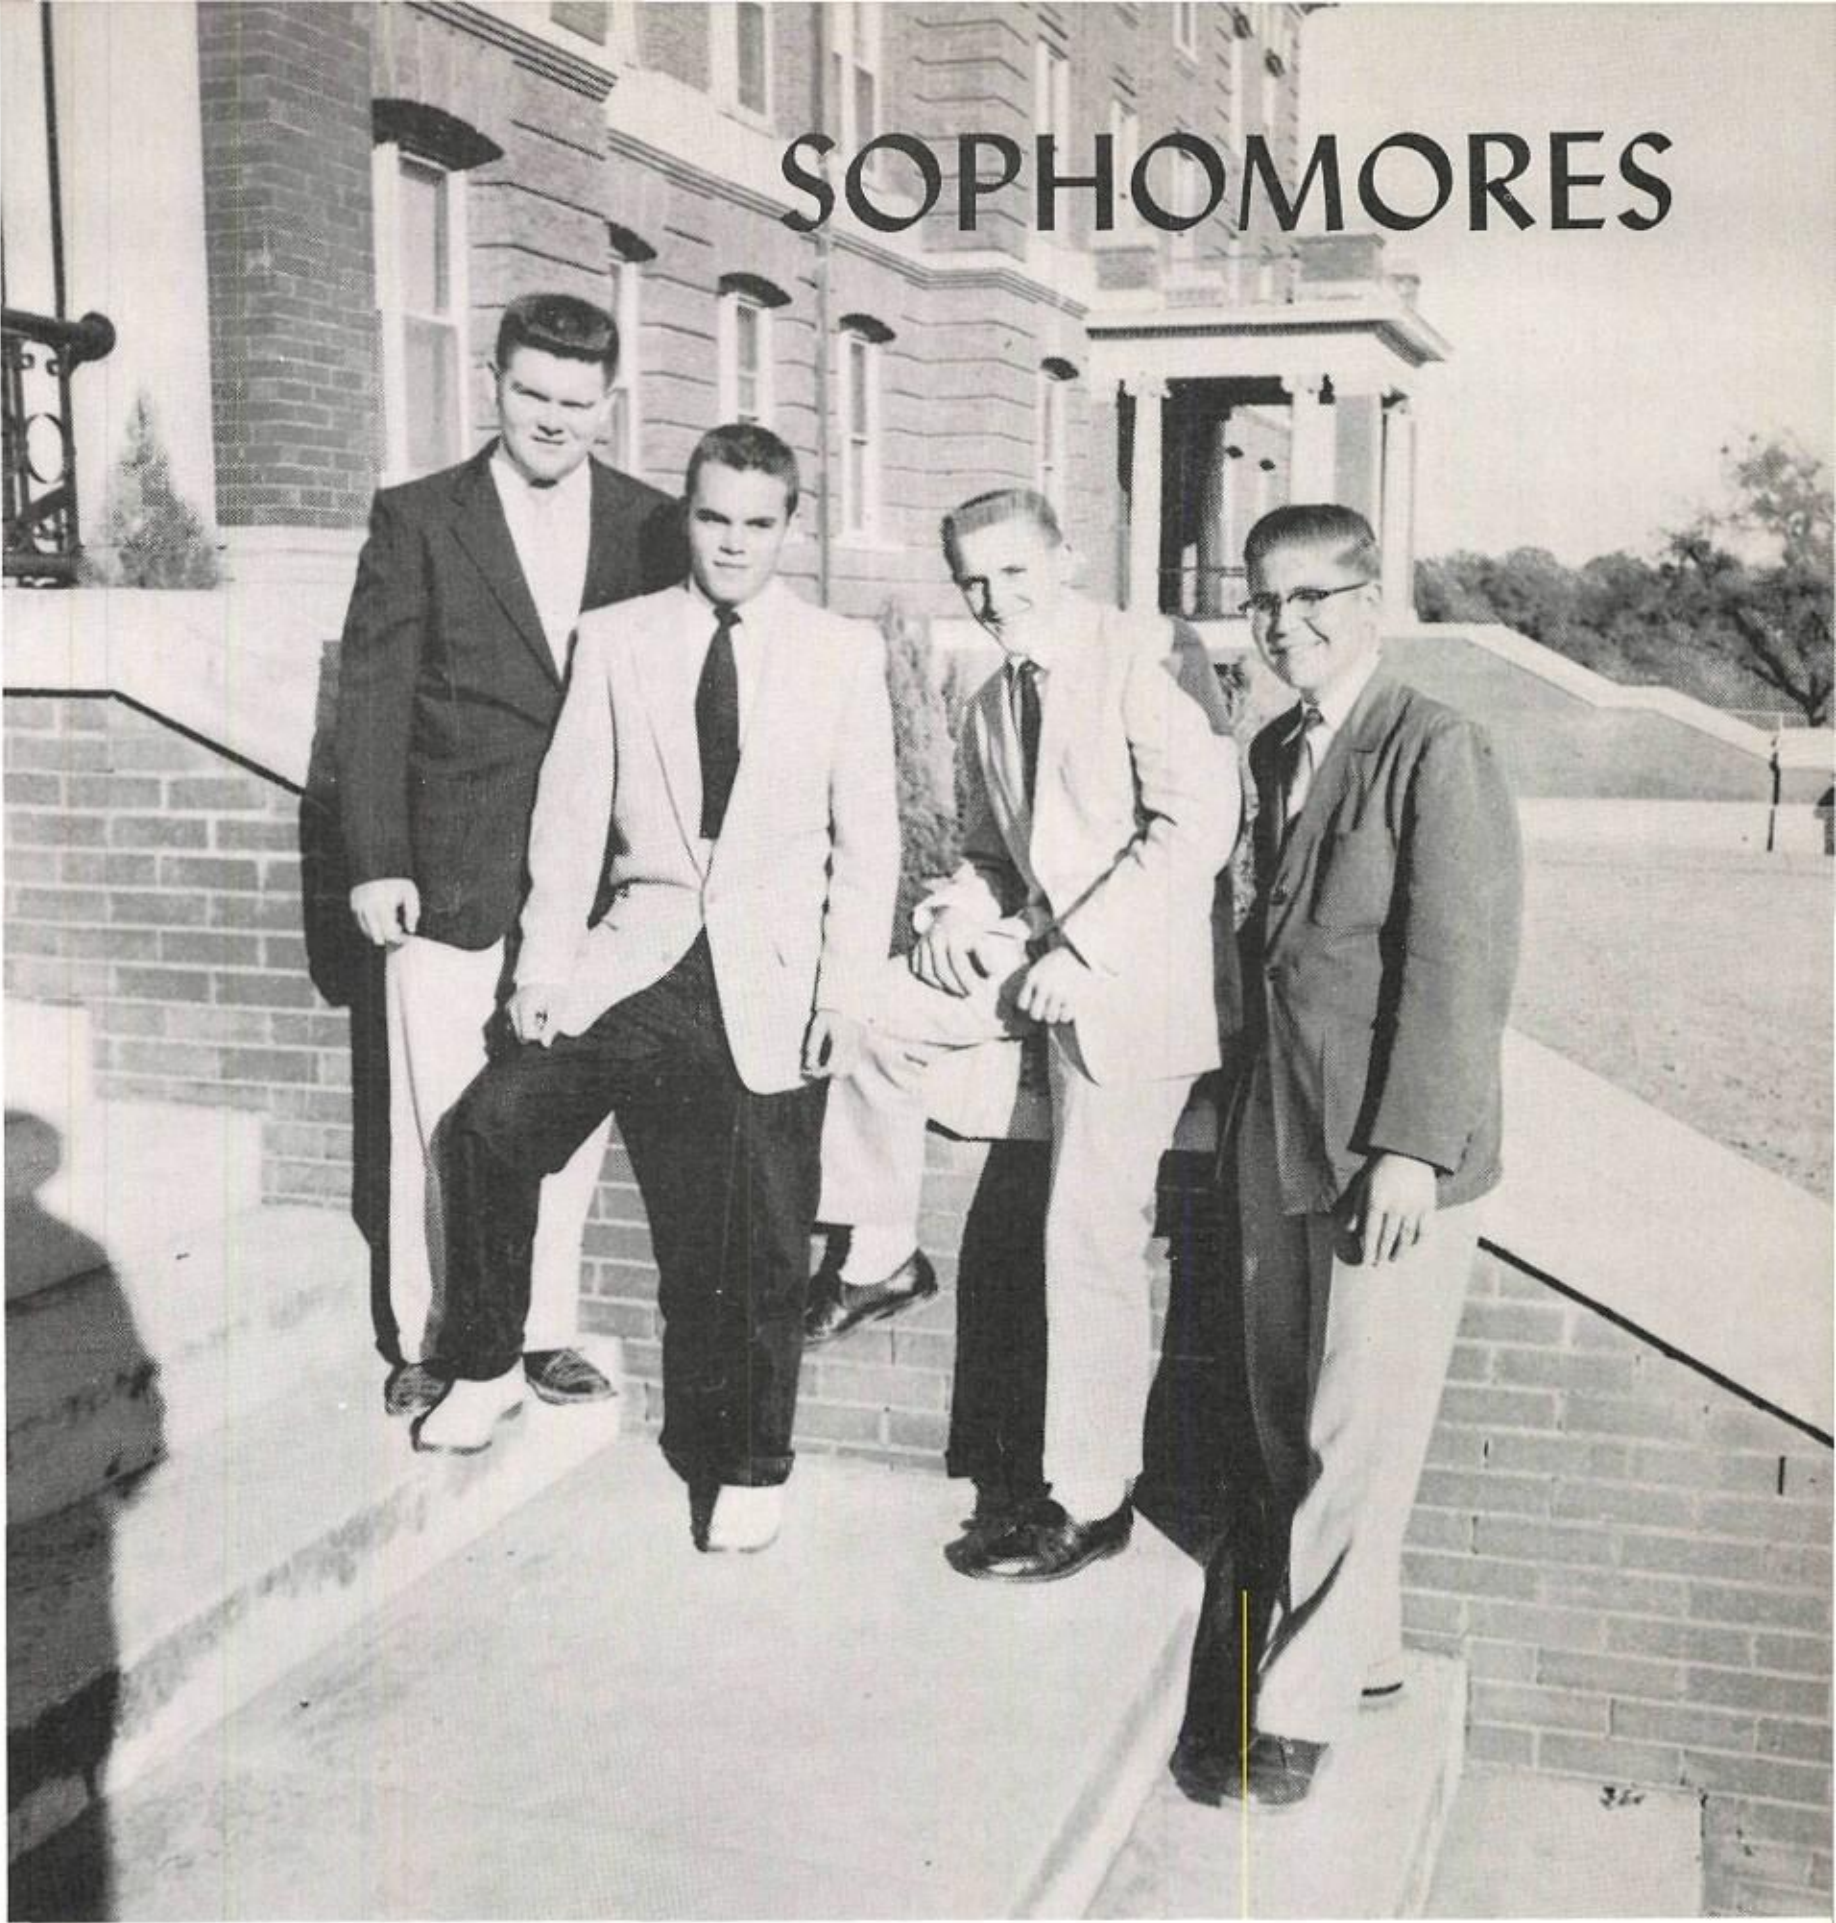

This past year has been a most enjoyable and successful one for the juniors. Looking back now, we can see how a part of this fine group was always at the front, spearheading special projects, while the active spirit of the others led them to give their most wholehearted support in every way that all might attain their proposed goal.

This spirit can be examined most easily, perhaps, in the sports sphere. Sports, in itself, clearly does not form the basis of a sound high school career; but the qualities that can be exemplified here do. Within the last two semesters, the ambition and hard work of the third year won for that class no less than three-fourths of the backfield berths on the varsity football squad, for instance. And again, taking the basketball quintets, the juniors were in the majority on both the varsity and "B" teams. The school spirit and drive shown in just these two instances has formed the real unity behind the junior division. They tried; they succeeded by any standards. Certainly no less can be expected from them in the future.

As I said, these same stimuli are what grounded their scholastic endeavors as well. Certainly, outstanding excellence in this field is less easily discerned from an outside viewpoint. Nevertheless, the junior class has been among the best in this line.

But aside from these two aspects of their general character, there is another, even more important, which again they possessed to a very full extent and displayed in a most marked manner. And this was their spiritual health and growth, growth shown each Thursday morning in their striking class Mass attendance, their activities in the Sodality. Certainly, a well-rounded group!

CLASS OF '58

by PAT McGOWAN

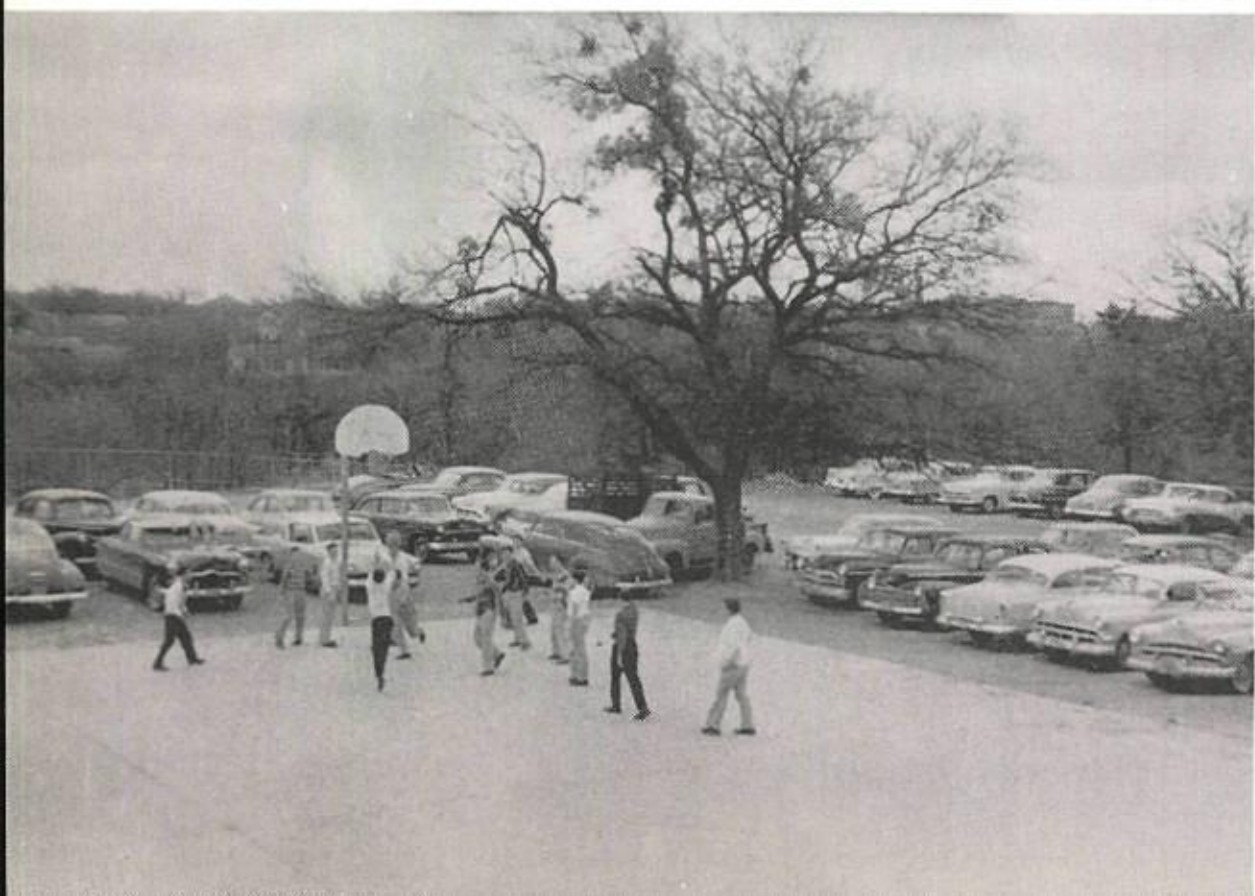

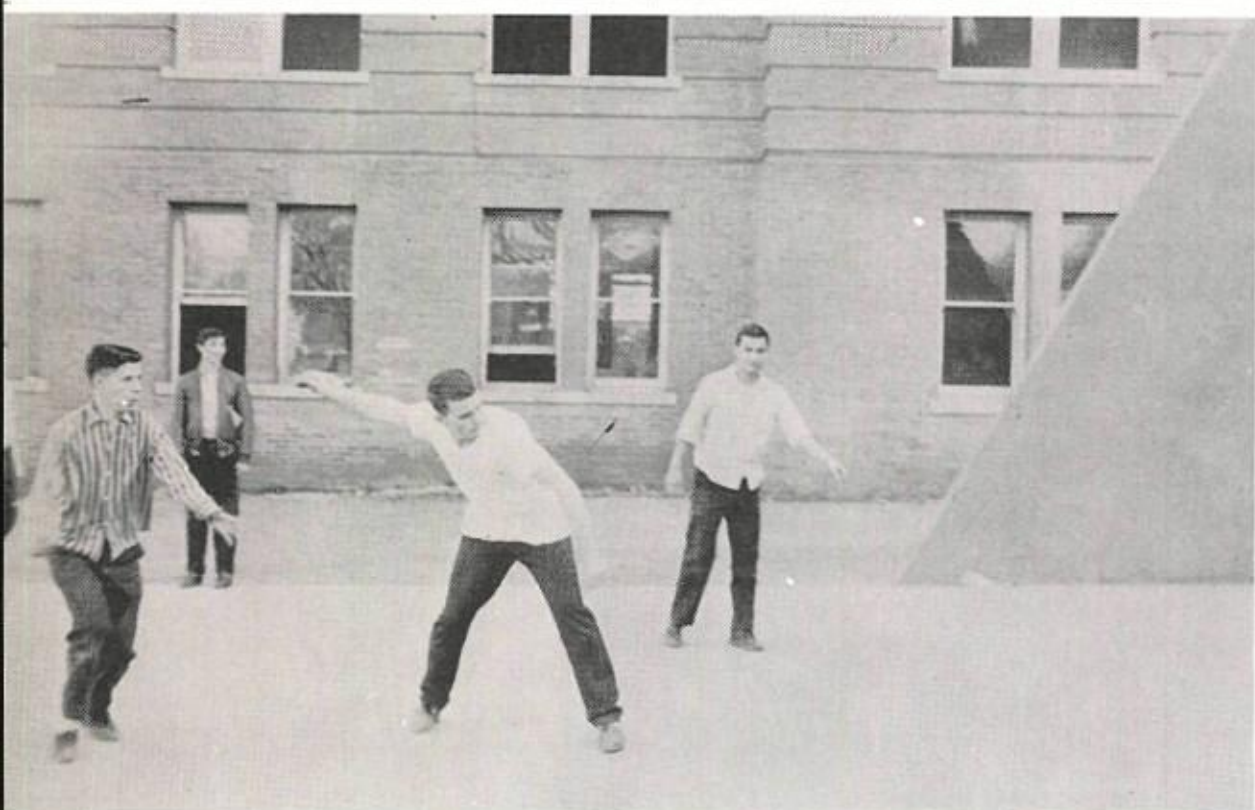

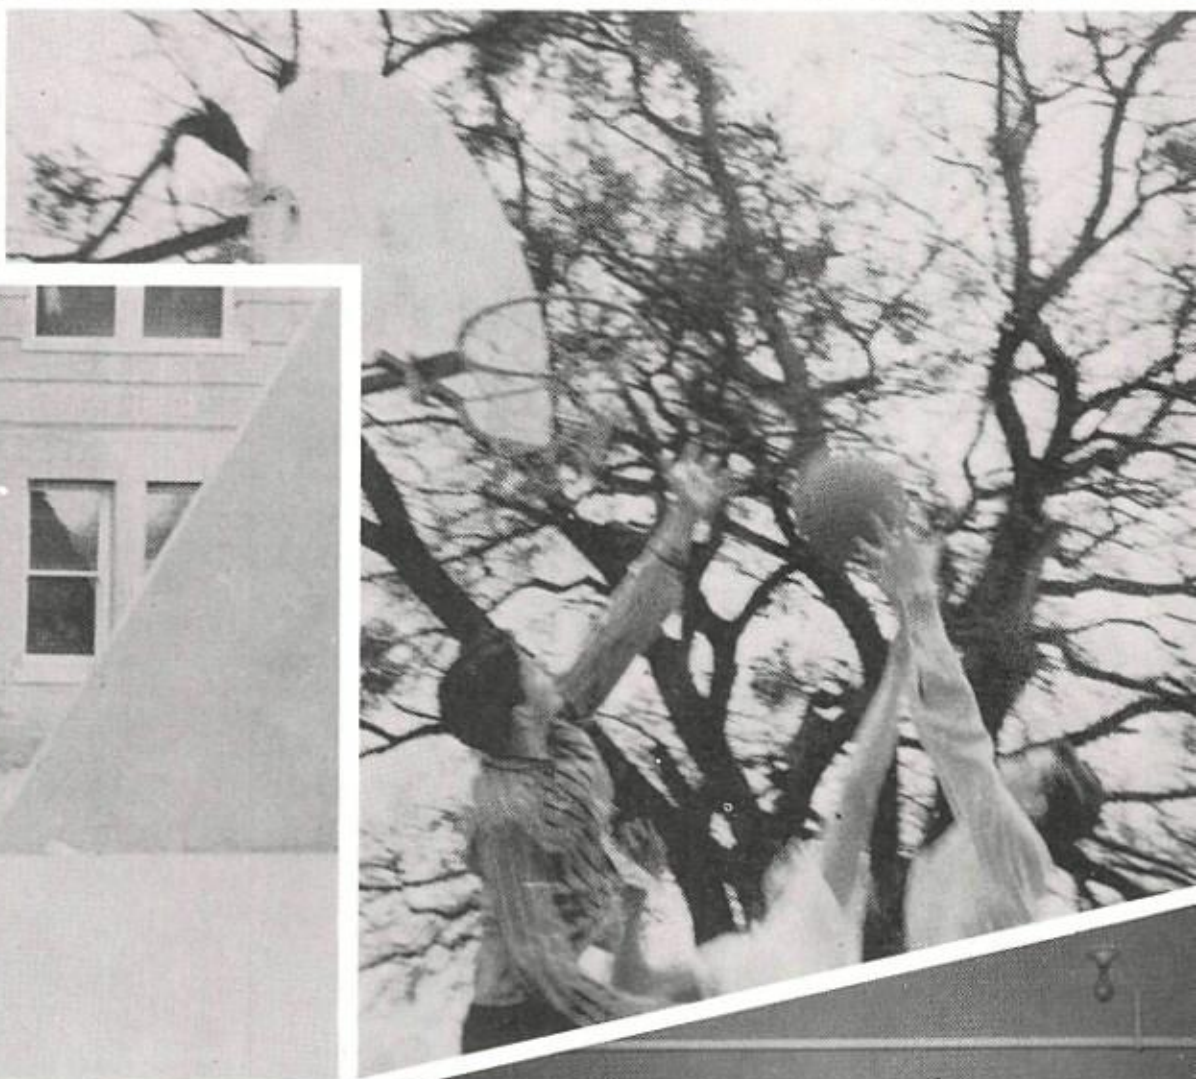

Years from now, the sophomore class of 1956 will be remembered not so much for its activity in some one special sport or organization, or for the work of one particular class division apart from the rest, as for the unity, industry, and school spirit of the class as a whole.

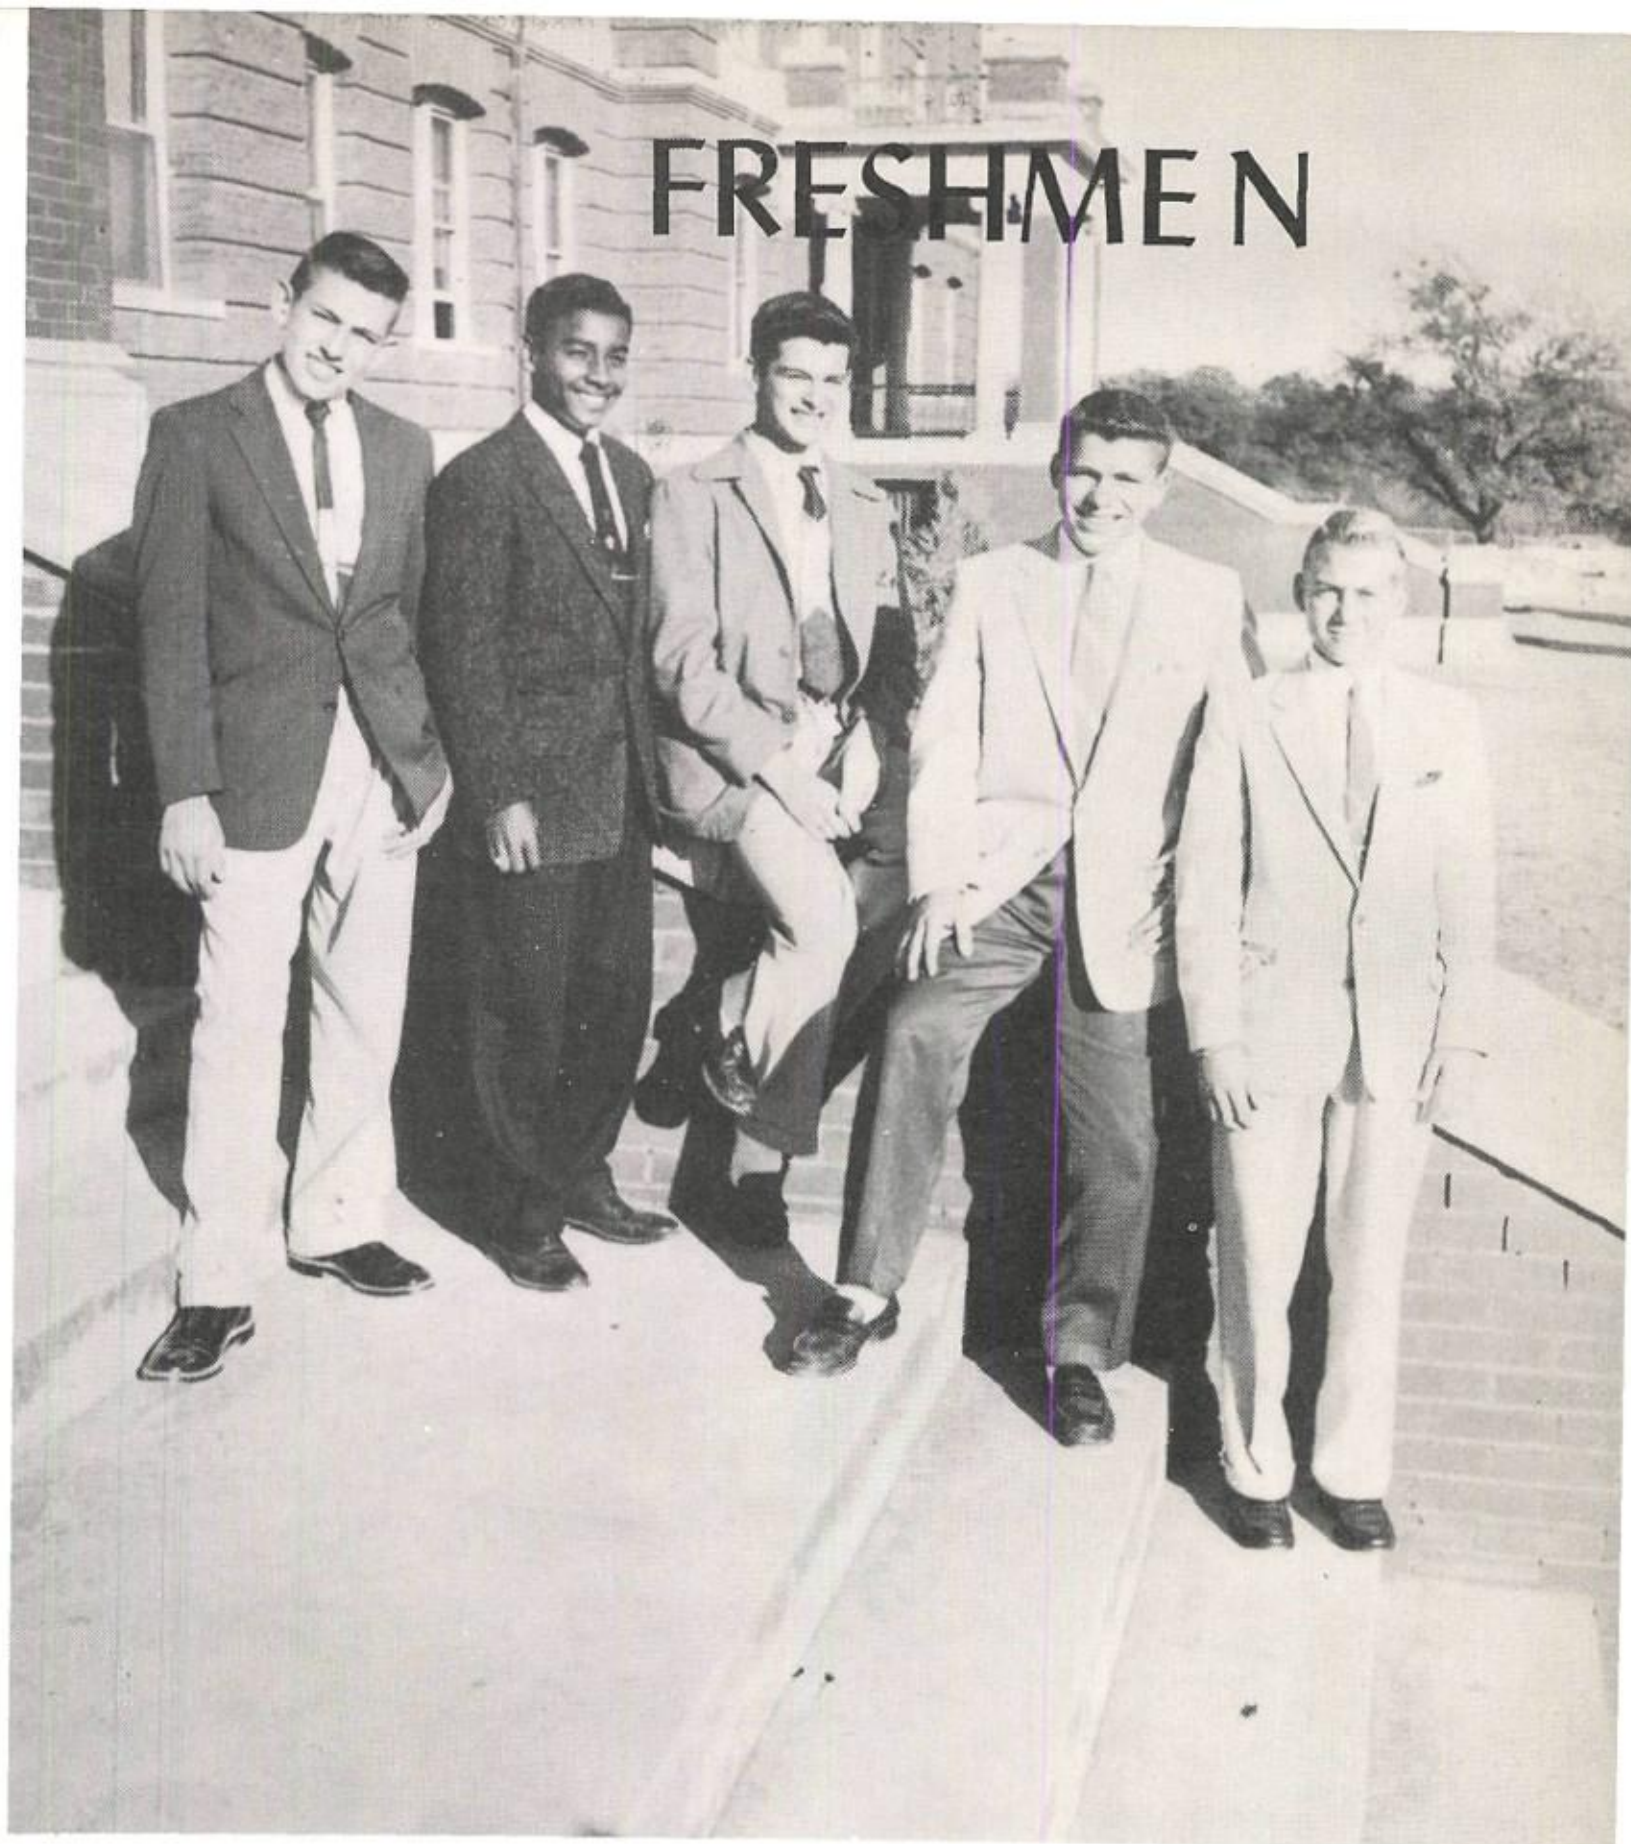

Of extreme significance to the sophomore class have been the various activities shared by all four divisions, which have helped immensely in unifying the group. A good example of this has been the sophomore activity in intramural basketball which has kept up a friendly rivalry among the classes. Then, too, several dances have been sponsored by both the joint class and the separate divisions in addition to the class nights and class outings.

The sophomores proved themselves a very industrious group. For example, 2C, realizing that their ancient classroom badly needed to be redecorated, decided to do the job itself. The entire room was repainted and the floors varnished and polished. In addition, the sophomore class has responded when the call for different charity drives was broadcast. During the Thanksgiving drive, bushel baskets of food were generously given; 2D, especially, supplied several top grade turkeys and hens. The sophomore class had its own paper, the Sophomore Outlook; and, although the staff of the Outlook were 2A men, any sophomore was free to contribute an article.

Lastly, a tremendous amount of school spirit and school mindedness was shown by the sophomore class. In almost every extracurricular activity at Jesuit sophomores rose to a very active membership. In the Sodality, the total number of sophomores was not less than ten, but three of these were on the Central Council. Two sophomores were in the cast of the Phil's first play of the year, Stalag 17; and four sophomores played prominent roles in the annual Shakespearean play, Macbeth. Sophomore debaters did well, even out-speaking some senior public school teams in several tournaments. In the Berchmans' Club, three out of the four sacristans were sophomores. And so on through most of the other organizations. In sports, about a half dozen second-year men were on the varsity, with still more on the "B" team.

In all, one must admit that this year's sophomore class, in evidence of its records and achievements, both scholastically and otherwise, is destined indeed to fulfill the finest Jesuit traditions.

ORIENTATION DAY

. . . The beginning of a new career.

It was a long time ago, looking back now.

Are the interests and ambitions we had then different today because they have matured . . . or because they have withered and died for want of use?

FROSH INITIATIVE . . .

CLASS OF '59

by TOM McSWEENY

It has been said that the good die young. The truth of this statement is somewhat doubtful and quite unimportant. What is important is that the members of the freshman class of this year not only adequately fulfill the qualifications of the "good," but appear well enough grounded in them to warrant a safe prediction that their spirit will not die young.

If one seeks confirmation of this in spiritual excellence, he need look no further than the chapel any Tuesday morning at eight o'clock Mass. If he wishes to go one step more, he will drop in on a meeting of the Candidate Sodality. The hearty turnout for both of these spiritual exercises from among our first-year men gives ample testimony to their continued spiritual growth.

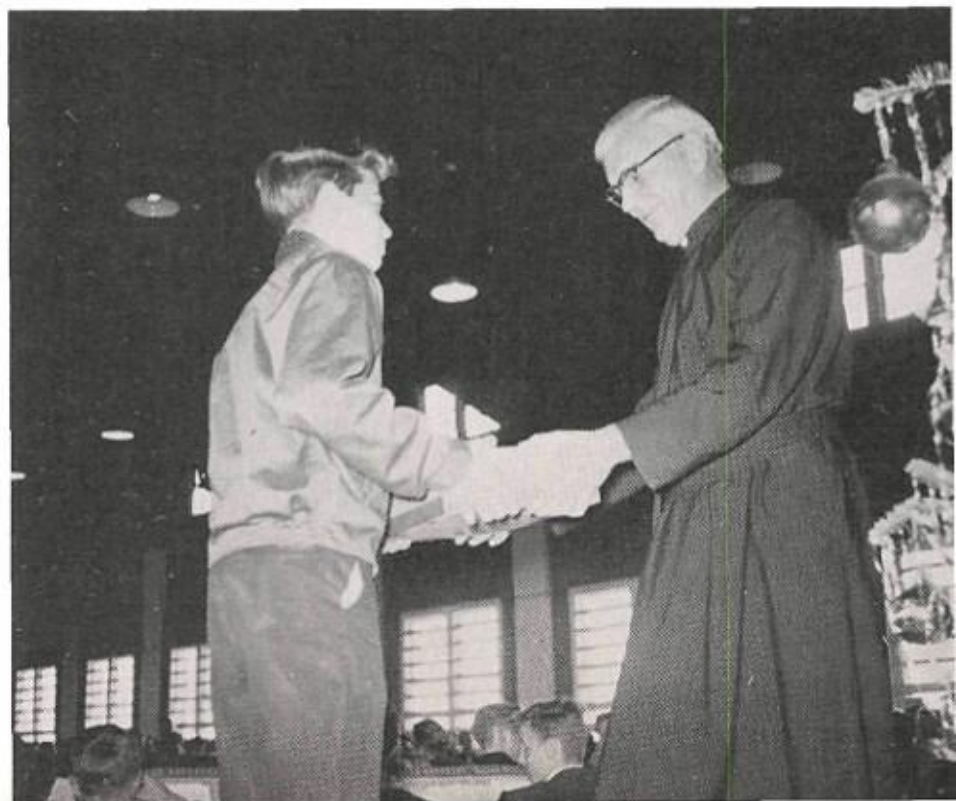

If, however, a person is looking for goodness in things mental rather than spiritual, he will have come to the right place if he stops at any freshman classroom. Here he will see in the cooperation of the many fine teachers and many more fine students the scholastic attitude found in the true Jesuit student.

Their activities do not stop here, however. Jesuit freshmen receive the fullest possible extracurricular subjects as well. Freshman classes are filled with up-and-coming debaters and actors and budding musicians. There are young altar boys, camera fans, and singers. The freshman athletic teams, too, demonstrate their confidence and spirit in aspiring to the heights of varsity football, basketball, baseball.

The value of these men is to be shown only with the passing of time, but it appears certain that this class will have the initiative to match its size, the biggest ever, with quality enough to make it one of the best ever.

. . . AND SPIRIT AND PROWESS

Orators Place At Denton

By ADOLPH P. CANALES

This tournament, held on Dec. 8-10 in Denton, Texas, at the N.T.S.T.C.'s Historical Building, consisted of ten different categories of oratorical expression. Jesuit was represented by thirteen students who were divided into these groups.

In the Boy's Debate section there were three teams: Johnson and Hodges; Feuchtmann and Fagin; and Galloway and Flusche. In the Poetry division, Boudreaux, Ingram, and Glasco participated. Feuchtmann and Fagin took part in Oral

Sodalists Work For Christ

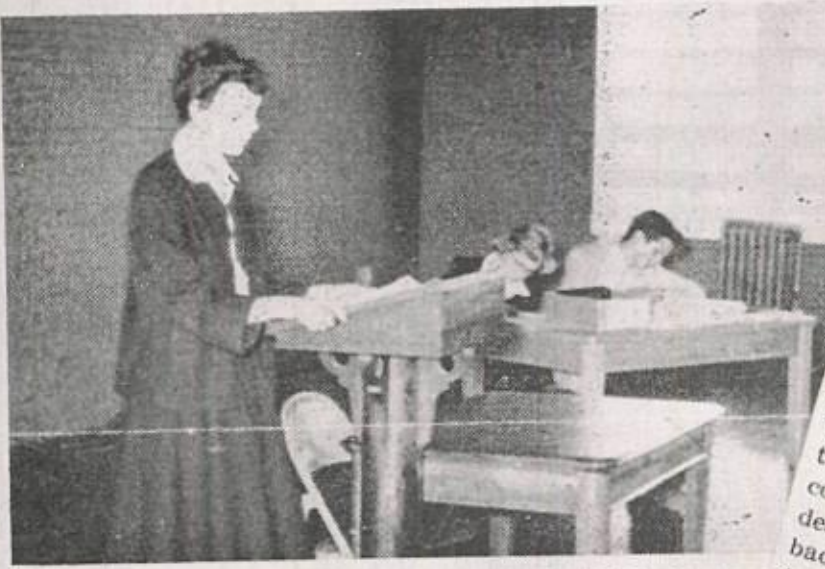

By TOM McSWEENEY

As almost everyone knows, the Sodality project of collecting and delivering Thanksgiving baskets for needy Dallas families was a complete success. Classes pitched in with contributions of money and food, filling twenty-six baskets almost to overflowing. Included in the baskets were twenty-four turkeys and two hens. The school as a whole could stand to give itself a well-deserved and hearty pat on the back for doing such a wonderful job. Further congratulations are in order for those hard-working individuals who organized and carried out the drive throughout the school.

ORGANIZATIONS

SODALITY

First row: Pat McDermott, Pat Dennehy, Adolph Canales, Ray Patak, Forrest Ingram, Fr. R. A. Tynan, S.J.

The threefold end or purpose of the Sodality is clearly expressed in its first rule: sanctification of self, sanctification of others, and defense of the Church. The Sodality aims first and foremost at making Sodalists good Catholics. This it does through its own devotions and spiritual exercises, together with talks at each meeting concerning some phase of the spiritual life. Sanctification of others is carried on throughout the school by many varied projects, like Mass or group rosary attendance drives. Sodalists are among those who help in the broadcasting of the rosary over radio station KRLD. Defense of the Church is limited right now to learning the apologetics of the Catholic Faith.

The Central Council of the Sodality, composed of the officers and committee heads, has held a weekly meeting each Thursday afternoon to plan the business of the regular Monday meeting. Under the guiding hand of Father Robert A. Tynan, S.J., this Council was responsible for a great many of the fine Sodality projects that have resulted over the last year. The Central Council has had as its officers: Jim Obst, Prefect; Ray Patak, Vice Prefect; Jack Schaefer, Secretary; and Adolph Canales, Treasurer. Other members of the Council were Veltin Boudreaux, Buzz Crutcher, Jerry Fagin, Forrest Ingram, Gordon Glasco, Sam Lomonaco, Dick Coerver, and Patrick McGowan.

The Sodality of Our Lady seeks quality, not quantity. To achieve this important goal, the Sodality has her aspirants take a rigid training course, lasting at least a full year, and in a few cases, even longer. Under their very able instructor, Mr. Kenneth A. Buddendorff, S.J., the candidates have been taking three half-hour classes a week to enable them better to know and to understand what the Sodality is—its aims, purposes, rules, and way of life.

Although their main program calls for daily Mass and Communion, daily Rosary, mental prayer, and other prayers and acts, the candidates have taken on many extra tasks too numerous to mention, but all leading towards the good Sodalists' way of life.

PHILOTHESPIC SOCIETY

First row: Mr. Joseph A. Tetlow, S.J.; P. Reaves, B. Semtner, M. O'Brien, A. Canales, J. Thurmond, J. Johnson, B. Schuster, J. Hopp, L. Fleming, Mr. Marion, J. Bahlinger, S.J. Second row: J. Hitt, T. Fuechtmann, T. Daboub, D. Cross, Jack Oster, C. Guenther, F. Faust, M. Daboub, D. Schol, N. Melun. Third row: A. Hopp, F. Ingram, C. Barbazon, H. Roberts, J. Finnegan, R. Boyne, L. Flusche, E. Flemming, J. Juranovitch, W. Mangelsdorf. Fourth row: J. Fagin, M. Richardson, P. Brennan, H. Crutcher, J. Obst, R. Alexander, T. Burnham, Jim Oster, C. Lundquist, C. Daboub. Fifth row: D. O'Shea, T. Troy, G. Glasco, G. Giard, J. Schaefer, A. Magro, M. Hall, J. Mullen, J. Ruffing, V. Boudreaux, K. O'Shea, W. Schares, W. Hodges.

The classic symbols of acting, comedy and tragedy, were certainly found in full measure in the performances of the Phil during 1955-56, for the Phil this year put on two productions—technically, a minor melodrama in the fall and a major tragedy, as is the custom, in the winter. Both of these public productions, plus a score of one-act plays staged for Phil members only, added up to a highly successful season for the Philothespic Society. Sharing this success with the cast members were those responsible for the greater part of it—the Phil's Co-Moderators for this year, Mr. Joseph A. Tetlow, S.J., and Mr. Marion J. Bahlinger, S.J.

The Phil began to roll early in the year when, on November third and fourth, "Stalag 17" played to over a thousand persons in Alex Spence Auditorium. Though technically a melodrama, the comedy shown through in the antics of those "barracks clowns," Stosh and Harry, portrayed by Charles Lundquist and Harry Roberts. Others performing ably in the play were Gordon Glasco, Buzz Crutcher, Jerry Fagin, George Giard, and Tony Daboub. The student director for this production was Claude Barbazon.

Gordon Glasco and Tommy Fuechtmann take the leads in Shakespeare's "Macbeth."

"STALAG 17"

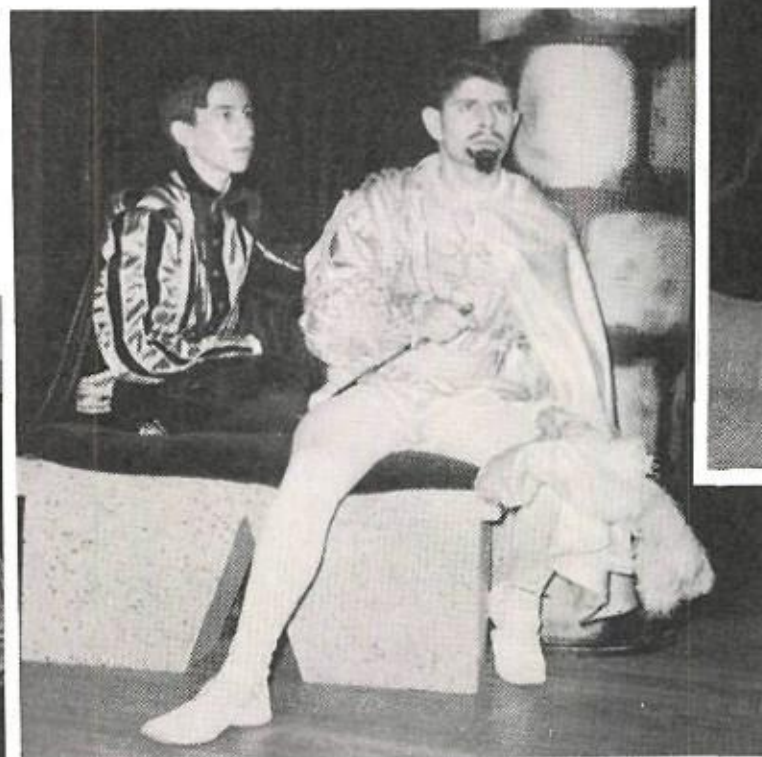

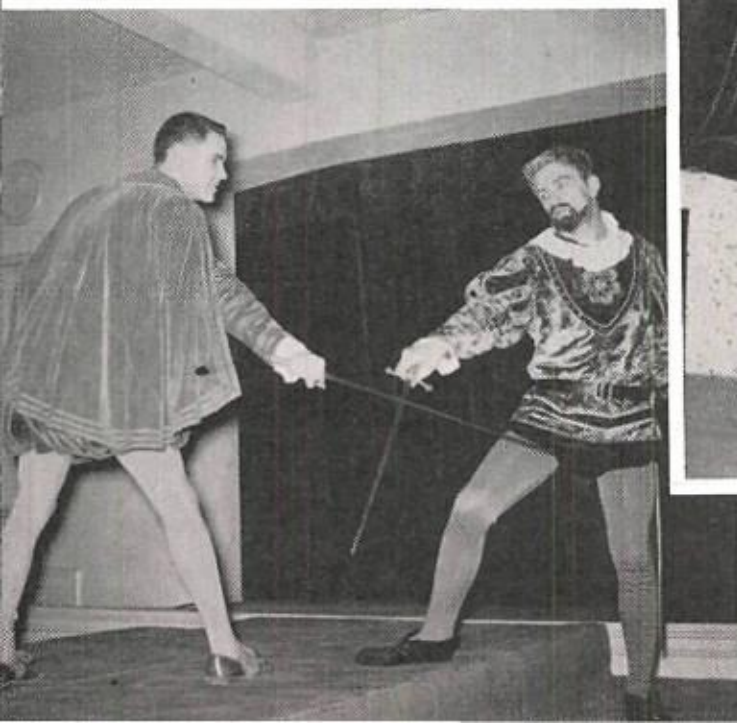

The barracks of Stalag 17. Jerry Fagin, Gordon Glasco, and Buzz Crutcher play the leads.

With the coming of the winter winds there also came the staging of the greatest tragedy of them all, Shakespeare's "Macbeth." On the nights of February 22, 24 and 25, the Phil presented its most lavish production of the year, complete with multi-leveled stage and witches' bubbling cauldron. Tommy Fuechtmann, cast as Macbeth and Gordon Glasoc, as Lady Macbeth, did a terrific job in portraying their intricate parts well. Also standing out in a superb cast of eighteen were Bill Hodges as Duncan, Jerry Fagin as Ross, Veltin Boudreaux as Macduff, and Jack Oster, Tony Daboub, and Forrest Ingram as Malcolm, Banquo, and Lennox, respectively. John Finnegan and Gordon Glasco who designed and made many of the play's costumes and Jack Oster who doubled as student director deserve special credit for the presentation's success.

Later in the year on April 16, the Phil presented a short three-act play for the Mothers' Club, and three days later on April 19 staged its highly successful and entertaining Senior Elocution Contest.

Truly, this was a most remarkable year for the Philothespic; and, as always, a successful record points up the fact that the Phil enjoyed very capable and dynamic leadership in the persons of the officers for 1955-56—Jerry Fagin, President; Tommy Feuchtmann, Vice President; Gordon Glasco, Treasurer; and Forrest Ingram, Treasurer.

JESUIT DEBATERS

First row: Fr. Jacques L. Weber, S.J.; P. Hughes, B. Semtner, J. Johnson, R. Boyne, N. Melun, A. Canales. Second row: F. Ingram, J. Brough, J. Tinkle, D. Cross, L. Flusche, F. Faust, L. Fleming. Third row: D. O'Shea, W. Hodges, M. Richardson, J. Fagin, T. Fuechtmann, R. Coursey, P. Wacks. Fourth row: P. McGowan, C. Johnson, G. Giard, R. Alexander, J. Miller, D. Jansen.

Perhaps two briefcases, five or six notebooks, and one or two suitcases will describe the life of a Senior Debater this year. For this was the year the Jesuit Debaters competed in full force for the first time against public school competition in state-wide tournaments. For in fulfilling their purpose to train young men to speak and think in a correct, polished, forceful, style, the Jesuit Debaters since September have debated more than in the rest of the organization's history combined. They have appeared at the Hillcrest, Denton, Southern Methodist University, Lamar High School and St. Thomas University tournaments, representing the school in Debating, Extemporaneous Speaking, Impromptu Speaking, and Original Oratory. In each of the tournaments they have placed teams in elimination debating, plus numerous finalists in the individual events. With Jerry Fagin, Tommy Fuechtmann, Bill Hodges, and Claiborne Johnson representing Jesuit as the leading debaters, the way has been opened for the school to rank as one of the leaders in debating in the Southwest.

Speakers from the five Dallas Catholic Debate League schools; Connie Duncan, L.G.G.; Brenda Harrison, St. Peter's; Claiborne Johnson, Jesuit; Alice Collmer, St. Ed's; and Suzanne De Haes, Ursuline.

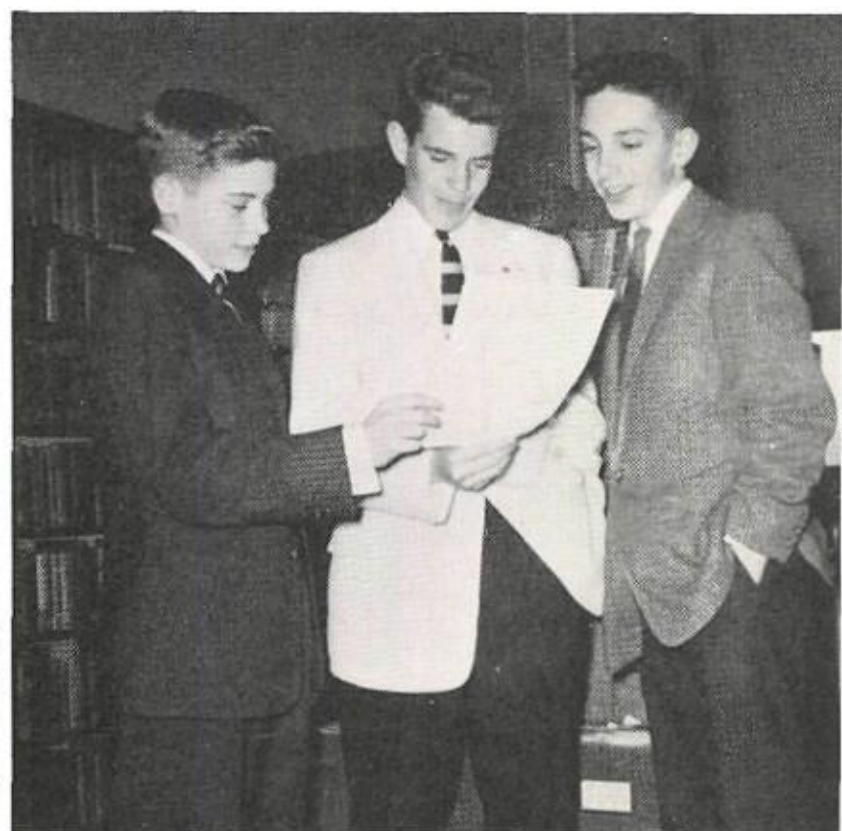

But so far we have not mentioned the Junior Debaters. This year the debating society split into two groups—the Senior Debaters, those who have proven themselves in the society and competitive speaking and the Junior Debaters, those freshman and sophomore debaters who have been competing for places at the close of the year. However, one Junior team reached the semi-finals of the Junior Division at Hillcrest, and one of the freshman teams reached the finals of the Junior Division at the Northwestern Louisiana University tournament. Couple this with the Senior Debaters' first place finishes the last two years at St. Thomas, and you can see the record of the Jesuit Debaters recent successes.

The Catholic City Debate League, comprising Jesuit, Ursuline, Our Lady of Good Counsel, Saint Edward's, and Saint Peter's has held intermittent debate nights, and has planned a future tournament of the Catholic high schools in Dallas and Fort Worth.

Heading the Jesuit Debaters was its esteemed Moderator, Father Jacques L. Weber, S.J. The members of the Executive Council were: Tommy Feuchtmann, President; Jerry Fagin, Vice President; Bill Hodges, Secretary; Forrest Ingram, Treasurer; and Bobby Boyne, Junior Representative.

'LAST ROUNDUP'

Mr. C. W. Wilson, S.J., outlines plans to the LAST ROUNDUP staff, left to right, Hector Ruiz, Bill Hodges, Buzz Crutcher, Jim Obst, George Giard, Tony Daboub, and, seated, Claiborne Johnson, Editor-in-Chief.

All that need be said about the LAST ROUNDUP staff has really been said, for their work, this annual, speaks for itself. However, attention should certainly be called to the ones responsible for all this.

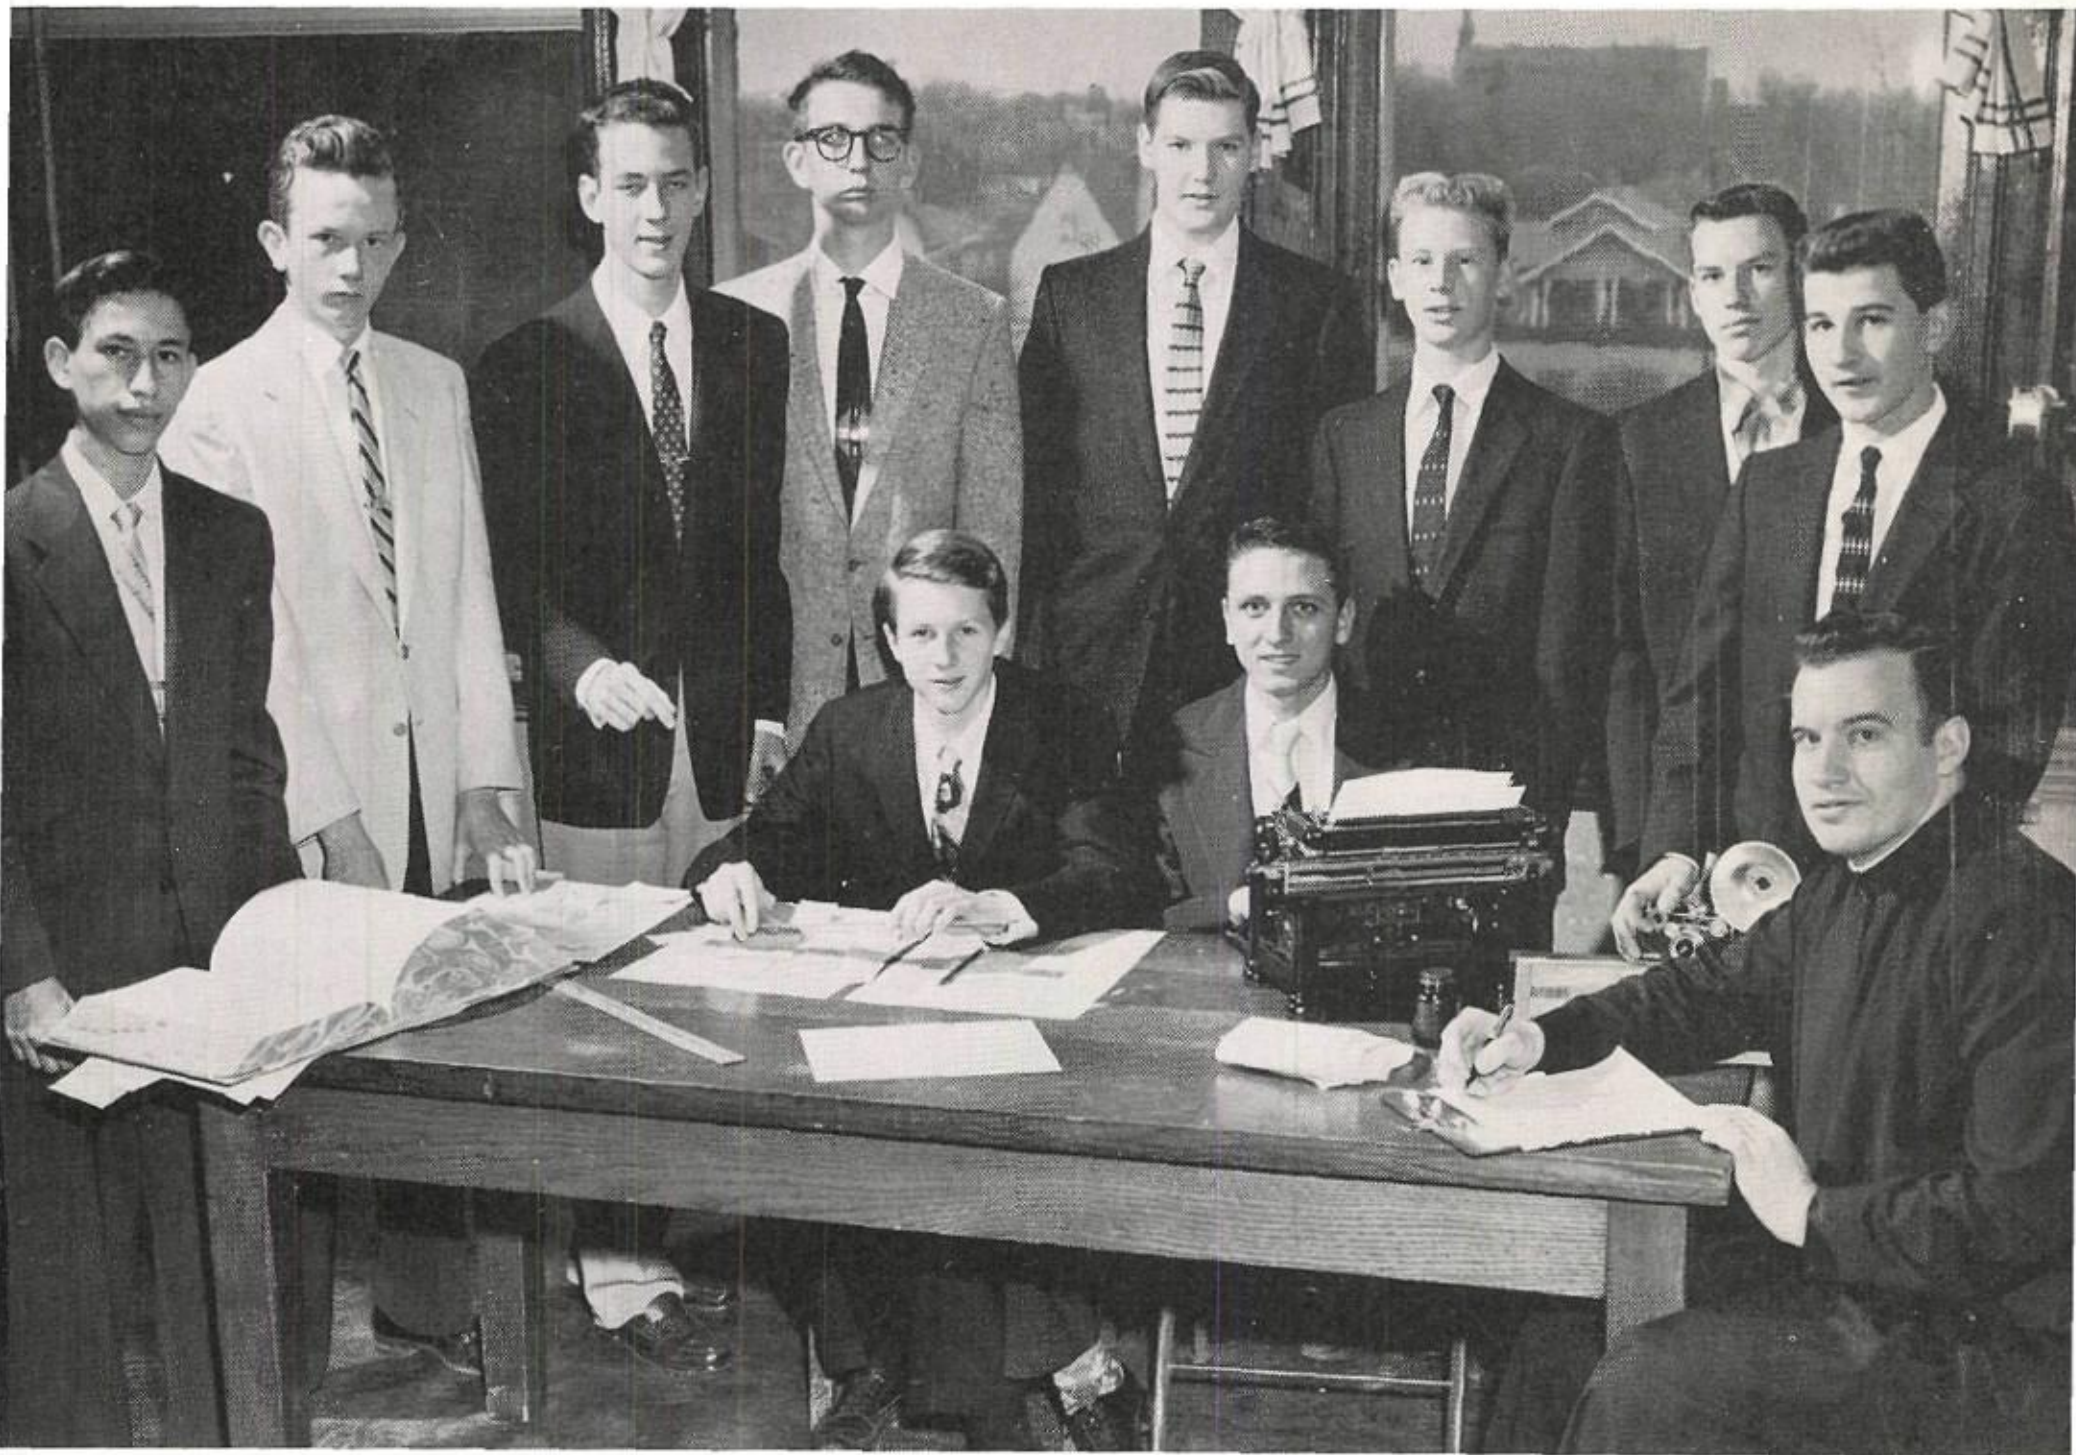

The LAST ROUNDUP staff consists of all the seniors in the ROUNDUP organization. They are headed by Claiborne Johnson, Editor-in-Chief; Buzz Crutcher, Sports Editor; and Bill Hodges, Feature Editor.

As you have no doubt noticed, the annual has undergone further developments this year, the most obvious developments being the padded cover and larger size. The book is larger by about sixteen pages and there are many more pictures.

Naturally none of this came without hard work. Many a long hour has been spent on the tremendous task of overall planning, assembling pictures, writing copy, and actually laying out the pages.

Certainly the student body should be very grateful to these men who have produced an annual to be treasured with pride.

'ROUNDUP'

Seated: T. Johnson, Assistant Editor; R. Pasqualino, Business Manager; Mr. Miller, S.J., Moderator.
Standing: A. Canales; D. Cross; P. McGowan, Exchange Editor; J. Miller; T. McSweeney; M. Morrow; T. Kenchel; J. Interrante, Photographer. Missing was Al Magro.

Remember when Mr. Lancaster Smith left the sideline bench to take a prosecutor's chair in the Dallas Courts? When "Stalag 17" earned such hearty applause over in the Spence Auditorium; when the football team returned from Beaumont with the bitter aftertaste of near victory still in their mouths? Or do you remember when the N.H.S. bowed out of its brief stay in politics upon announcing the stepping-stone to popularity-elected student government, the new Student Council?

If you can recall these events perhaps you remember also how you came to know them, to understand them and appreciate them. Most probably you read accounts of them in the monthly ROUNDUP, for these are only a few of the stories it covered completely and interestingly.

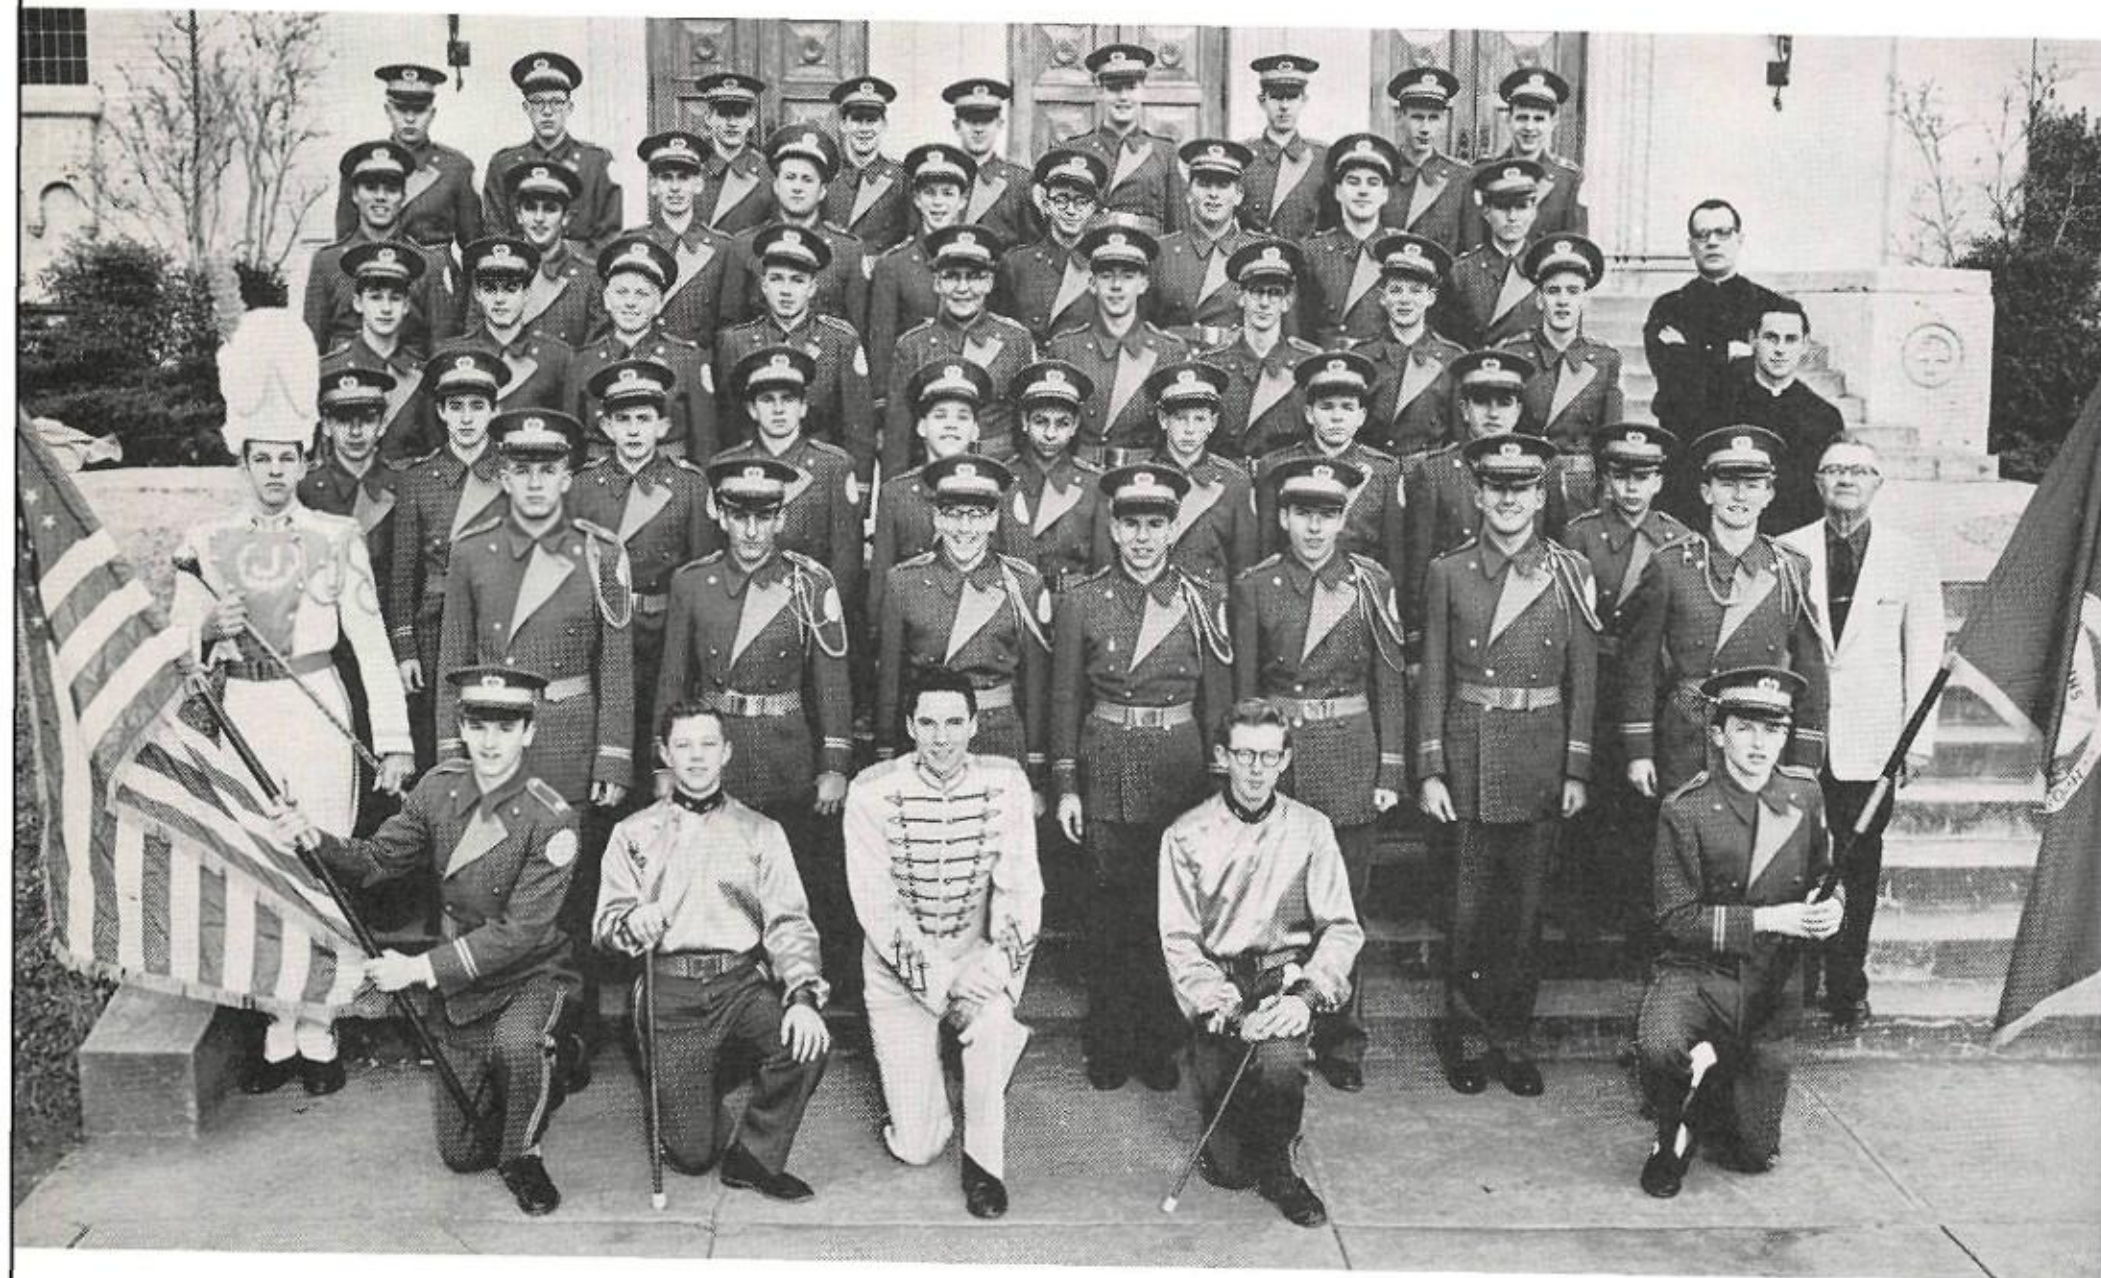

The ROUNDUP, because it only comes out about every five weeks, cannot be very "newsy." Consequently, interspersed with the news writeups have been delightful features treated in an informal style, such as the one from a sorrowful termite's viewpoint, telling of the students' repainting four of the school's classrooms.

Throughout the year, also, the ROUNDUP has kept you abreast of the wanderings of alumni in the ALUMNI ROUNDUP column, and brought you the lighter side of things in ON THE RANGE.

As always, the ROUNDUP has sponsored its Essay and Short Story Contests, both encouragements to the student body to write more, both again this year achieving excellent response.

The entire ROUNDUP staff writes for the monthly paper, and it has been ably led this year by Tracy Johnson, Assistant Editor; Buzz Crutcher, Sports Editor; and Bill Hodges, Feature Editor. The ROUNDUP'S financial matters have been managed this year by Dick Pasqualino, its industrious Business Manager.

A flourish of trumpets, a roll of the drums, and the Jesuit Band marches majestically into the spotlight. Headed by its baton-twirling drum-major, Veltin Boudreaux, the Band blew spirit unequalled into the eager observers at all of the Ranger football games. Their, precision drill and intricate formations were a result of much hard work by all the band members, and by Fr. Riviere, S.J., Mr. Larose, S.J., and Mr. Hohman.

With football season over, the Band immediately began preparing for its annual spring concert. At this concert all types of music are presented from "Hungarian Dances" to selections from Broadway's "Oklahoma."

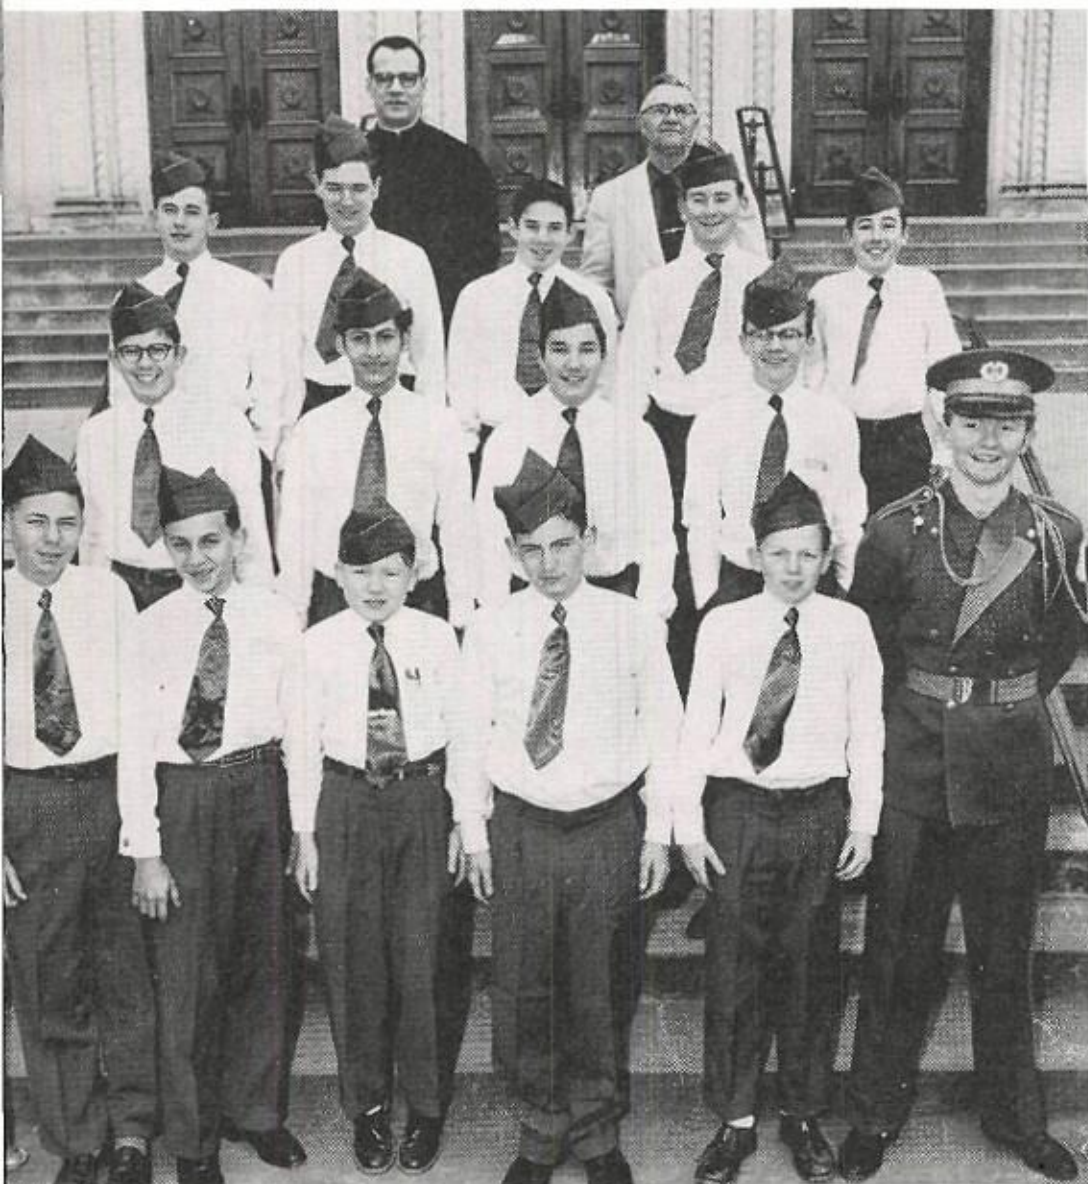

In March, the Band participated in the annual Music Festival held at S.M.U., and in early April sponsored its own annual Gold Medal Instrumental Music Contest.

Mr. E. L. Hohman, Director of the Jesuit High Band, guides that group through one of its many rehearsals.

Resting squarely on the shoulders of the members of the St. John Berchmans' Society is the responsibility and honor of assisting at the numerous religious functions held at Jesuit. Be it either the weekly Mass for the general student body or monthly First Friday devotions the servers may be observed performing their duties competently and devoutly.

The spirit of self-sacrifice is one of the chief requisites for being an altar boy. But the men of the Berchman's Club realize that this sacrifice is well worth the graces that they receive from serving Mass. The members are under the guidance and direction of Mr. B. L. Wren, S.J., to whom is due all the praise for the faultless precision and splendid manner of each member.

The Society this year affiliated itself with the Serra Club, a nation-wide organization, which fosters vocations to the religious life. And, of course, the Berchmans' Club stimulates these vocations with its program of Mass serving.

The Club numbers about fifty members, since it takes quite a few to care for the many Masses said each morning at Jesuit. The members by joining with their priest-professors at Mass, complete the friendship between the student and the faculty members.

The monthly first Friday Mass was celebrated during the year at Holy Trinity Church.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

by JIM OBST

Continuing this year in its adopted role of student council pro-tem, the National Honor Society, at least in the first semester before the new student government was launched, met squarely and successfully a number of problems. But with Father Kammer as its Moderator and its members "outstanding in scholarship, leadership, character, and service," as the constitution states, its projects could hardly have failed to be marked with a certain amount of success.

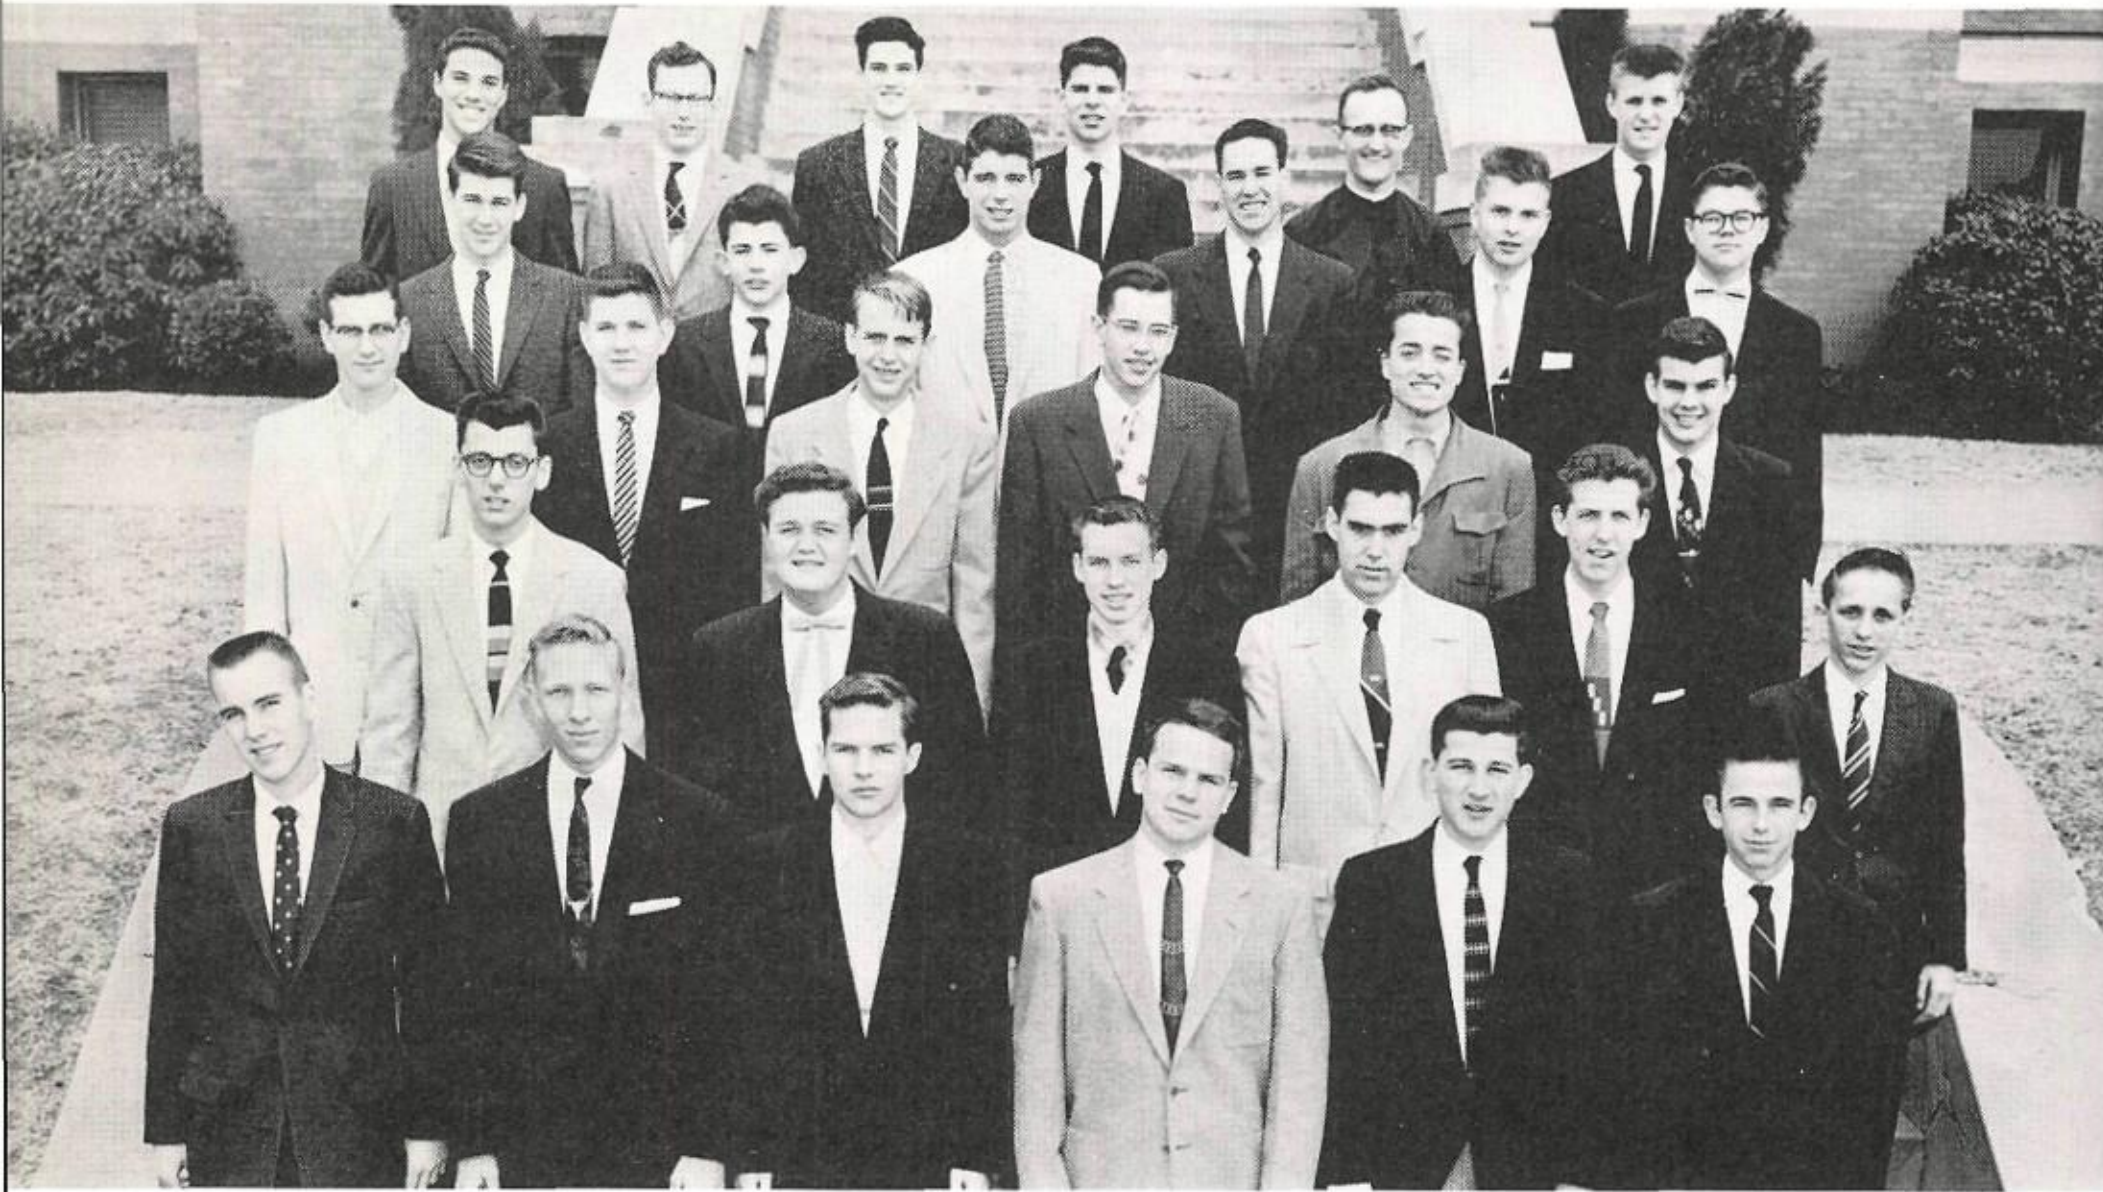

The N.H.S. joined with the Jesuit High Mothers Club in a joint dance committee which sponsored and supervised all the social events held at school. Another committee planned the entertainments for the quarterly assemblies. Also, as in former years, some members continued their outside coaching of students having particular trouble with some curricular subject.

Pages could be written on the accomplishments of the National Honor Society during this past school year; but they need not be, for everyone is already aware of what the N.H.S. is constantly striving to accomplish for Jesuit. Under its capable officers—Buzz Crutcher, President; Claiborne Johnson, Vice President; Jerry Fagin, Secretary; and Forrest Ingram, Treasurer—the N.H.S. has spent the year as a real service organization should: helping the school in every way possible.

Above: the executive council of the Aloysius Chapter of the National Honor Society.

SAFETY CLUB

First row: B. Lindley, H. Seeligson, P. McDermott, T. McRedmond, J. Interrante, R. Patak. Second row: J. Hollow, J. Reeves, T. Kenchel, R. Hooper, J. Stack, C. Atkins. Third row: R. Healy, T. O'Donnell, B. Lovelace, P. Cowdin, A. Killeen, W. McGuire. Fourth row: H. Roberts, R. Baker, C. Clark, G. Giard, J. Sazama, J. Kiowski. Fifth row: B. Sirchio, J. Goodman, B. Crutcher, T. Daboub, Mr. E. T. Coles, S.J., P. Wacks.

This year, the Safety Club has conducted a vigorous campaign against traffic problems and safety hazards. Their projects, accomplished largely through the guidance and assistance of their Moderator, Mr. E. T. Coles, S.J., have cleared up nearly all of the traffic problems which existed on the campus at the start of the school year.

Probably the most important project, as far as the removal of traffic congestion was concerned, was the creation of a "No Parking" zone along the main entrance and along the far side of the drive. In order to protect the shrubbery and the lawn, the Club has placed pipe lengths in the ground around the front drive. Stop signs have been placed at the front and back entrances of the school, and a "15 miles per hour" speed limit has been painted in large yellow letters on the pavement. Each morning before school, and each afternoon after classes, members of the Club regulate traffic on the front driveway.

The officers of the Safety Club were: Bill Lindley, President; Pat McDermott, Vice President; John Goodman, Secretary; Ray Patak, Treasurer.

JESUIT RADIO CLUB

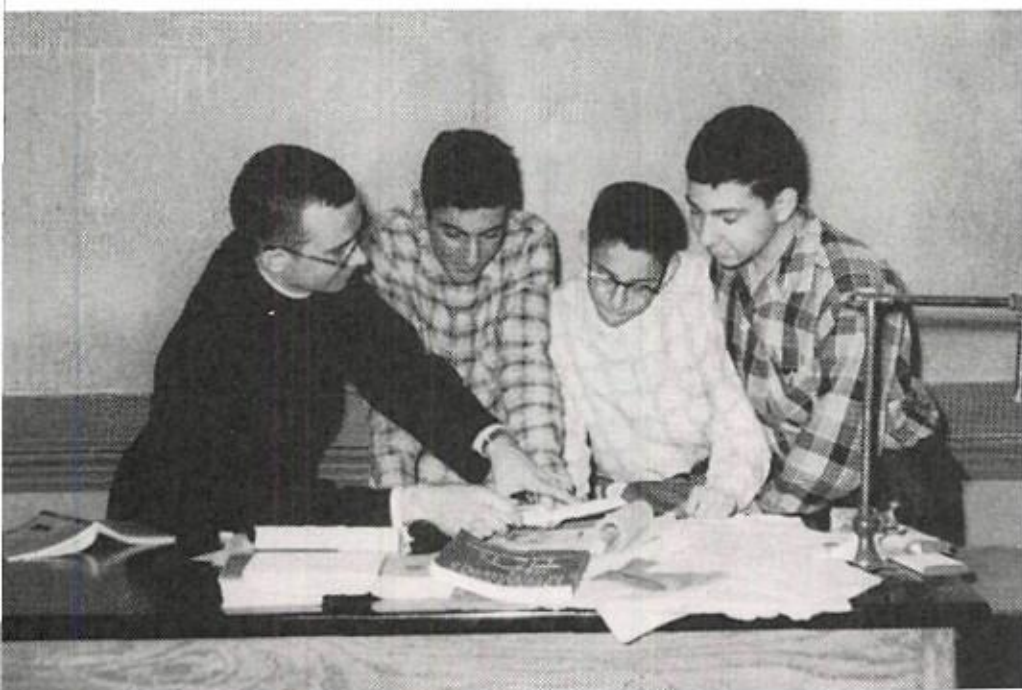

Left to right: J. Paschal, J. Wrenn, E. Reed, J. Timmerman, R. Masse, J. Masse, S. Lomonaco, P. Strange, Mr. W. E. Underhill, S.J.; J. Goodman, N. Coursey.

The Jesuit Radio Club has come a long way in the past two years; and, in doing so, has made a nice reputation for itself. In this school year alone the Club has successfully completed a number of projects. One of these was the assembling of electronic equipment for Fr. May's science lab. The experience for the Club and the work saved the Science Department profited all concerned.

The organization received and repaired three television sets for standard use. Incidentally, the sets are in good working condition, due to the prolonged efforts of the Moderator, Mr. W. E. Underhill, S.J. A dilapidated tape recorder was expertly reconditioned and sold.

Last of all, an all-purpose power supply was made by the members for their use. And now they are working on a "solar battery," (a device which uses the sun as a source of electricity). They intend to power a transistor radio when the battery is perfected.

The club's officers this year were: Pete Strange, President; John Goodman, Vice President; Sam Lomonaco, Secretary; Joe Timmerman, Treasurer.

Mr. Underhill points to a reference in a radio manual, with members Strange, Reed, and Lomonaco watching.

PAN-AMERICAN CLUB

Although the Pan-American Club is one of the school's newest organizations, it has established itself as one of the most promising in the school. It was started at the beginning of the year under the capable leadership of Mr. Emmanuel Ortega, S.J., its faculty Moderator. The Club was founded for the purpose of promoting Spanish, and for getting the students to increase their interest both in their Spanish classes and in the countries and friends to our south.

During the year the Club has had a program every meeting. Films, records, refreshments, etc., were presented that made the meetings both pleasant and interesting. At the beginning of the second semester, the members had a dinner at one of the finest Spanish restaurants in town.

For the future, a dance at the end of the school year is planned; and the Club will try to gain membership in the Pan-American Association of Texas.

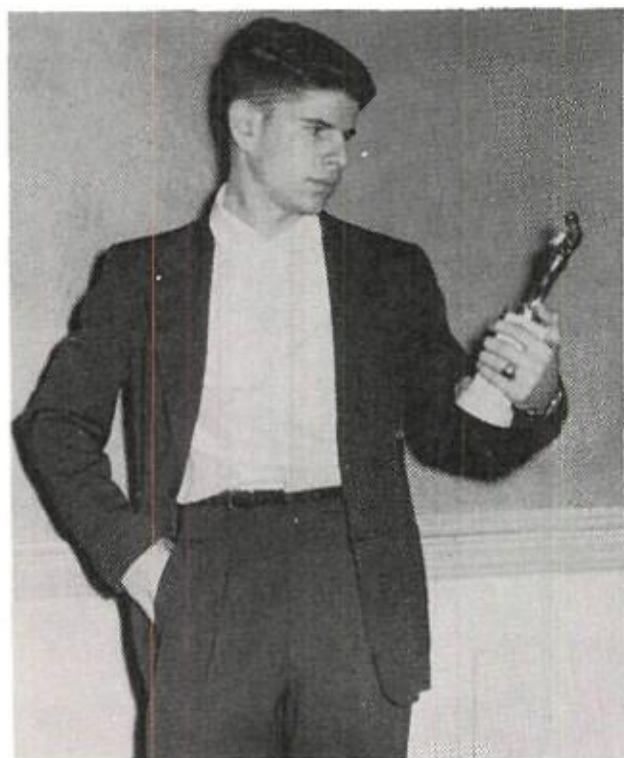

The Club's officers: Ralph Tovar, Vice President; Eddie Pita, President; Ross Interrante, Treasurer; Jack Schaefer, Secretary.

President Anthony Daboub admires the trophy he received for his fine work in the Camera Club.

Last year's newest organization, the Camera Club, has definitely lost any inexperience it had then. This can be shown by the numerous tasks the Camera Club has taken on this year. Its aims are to instruct its members in the mechanics of photography and to promote an interest in photography among Jesuit students.

The Camera Club has its regular meetings every Sunday evening and following the business meeting proper are instructive entertainments—movies, slides, or lectures on photography. During March the Club sponsored its annual school-wide photography contest.

Of course, the Camera Club's activities could not have been possible had it not been for the interest shown by its moderators and its very capable officers—Anthony Daboub, President; Eddie Pita, Vice President; William Schares, Secretary, and George Giard, Treasurer.

Following the most active period in its history last year, including the performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, the PIRATES OF PENZANCE, and participation at many of the school functions, the Glee Club this year has been rallying its forces for another assault on the limelight. Under its new Moderator, Mr. Michael J. Larose, S.J., the organization has been regrouping and singing more for personal entertainment than public. They did, however, give their admirers a display of their talent at the Mothers and Sons' Christmas Banquet, where they sang renditions of various Yuletide carols.

When the Glee Club limited its membership at midterm, it found itself with the best singing voices in the school. The future will provide the Glee Club with numerous opportunities to give Jesuit truly fine entertainment.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club, formed only a few months ago, is already proving an enjoyable and instructive pursuit for its members. This organization to a great extent grew out of the increased interest in science and mathematics that has sprung up at Jesuit. When they first met, the group which now comprises its membership were seeking some framework within which they could all work together on various projects and experiments and share their ideas by frequent seminars and discussions. So that essentially is what the club has become, a rather loosely-knit group officially but one held together by mutual interests. This lack of formality obviated the election of a whole slate of officers. Only two posts were filled—the Presidency, by Claiborne Johnson, and the Vice Presidency, by Pat McGowan.

The Science Club was begun this year as an experiment, to see if it could be of aid to a certain group of students; and judging by the interest that group has shown, the trial must by any standards be judged a success.

Because of the large number of students at Jesuit High, and because of the ever-increasing number of volumes—5,683, to be exact—the library aides are not only useful but also quite necessary. The students who comprise this group are chosen from all four years for their interest and ability to assist the faculty librarians in their more routine duties. The aides help shelve books, keep the desk, repair damaged books, and make out overdue. The library aides have many opportunities to help their fellow students and to share their knowledge and enjoyment of books with them.

The arduous task of training new aides belongs to the school librarians—Father Francis R. Braun, S.J., Mrs. Jean Reilly, and Mrs. Helen White—who have kept the library going at the peak of efficiency.

HALFTIME AND THE CROWNINGS

Jesuit's homecoming queens and their maids-of-honor are framed by the Jesuit marching band as they leave the field to conclude their presentation at the homecoming game. The queens represented each of the Dallas Catholic girls' high schools. From St. Ann's were chosen Carolyn Pompa, queen, and Theresa Tovar, her maid-of-honor. Representing Our Lady of Good Counsel were Janice Brown, queen, and Joan Parker, maid-of-honor; St. Edward's, Carol Benit and Mary Ellen Reaves; and Ursuline, Ursula McCaffrey and Mary Neuhoff.

The game, with the Jesuit Rangers opposing the Central Catholic of San Antonio Buttons, was also every bit the success of these colorful halftime displays. Despite a two-touchdown final period for the Buttons, the Rangers rolled up a sound victory to bring the night's athletics to a most satisfactory climax.

Following the game was the traditional Homecoming Dance, held this year in the Jesuit gym. The inserts above picture the individual crowning of each of the queens that highlighted this part of the evening.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1956 Rangers Varsity. Front row: D. O'Shea, F. Rotello, H. Ruiz, J. Schaefer, A. Lostetter, C. Clark, R. White, R. Dodson, J. McLeod, A. C. Moser, Joe Biasatti. Second row: E. Munchrath, C. Giard, R. Interrante, K. Spies, J. Foltyn, J. Lover, Johnny Boykin, Assistant Coach; and Coach Lanc Smith.

The 1956 Jesuit Rangers, slipping a couple of notches below the previous year's season, compiled a 7-3-1 record, which is nothing to be scoffed at.

The Jebbies opened their season with the eventual 4A semi-finalist, Sunset, and came out second best to the tune of 7-27. This was by no means humiliating, because two last-minute touchdowns enabled the City team to run up the score.

The following week the Rangers traveled to McKinney for a "breather." The over-confident visitors found themselves tangling with a true Lion. Jesuit's complacency almost cost them the ball game, but the aerial game of A. C. Moser and the glory-bang running of Hector Ruiz pulled the Rangers from a 12 point deficit to a 19-19 tie.

Jesuit's enraged varsity, yet to find their first victory, took a lesson from the McKinney game and won the next five games in a row. Mexia (20-14), Lancaster (46-7), Corpus Christi (42-19), St. John's of Shreveport (39-0), and Central Catholic (25-19), all felt the vengeance of the irate Rangers.

Their next game was with the Ennis Lions. The Lions' college-size team was pushed all over the field for three quarters, but struck like lightning in the fourth period to nudge the Jebbies 14-13.

Cascia Hall was next for the erratic Rangers. They had come all the way from Tulsa, Oklahoma, but were rudely spanked and sent back home to the tune of 33-13.

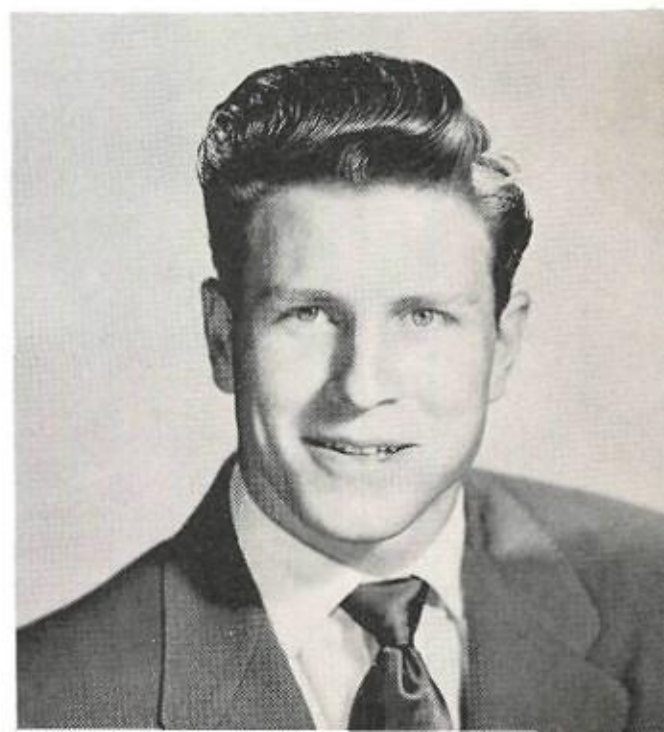

After defeating Price of Amarillo in the semi-finals, the Jesuit team tried unsuccessfully to defend their TCIL title against a strong St. Anthony's of Beaumont team. The Rangers were defeated 20-14 by a one-man team called Ronny Fontenot, who did everything but sell peanuts in the stands.

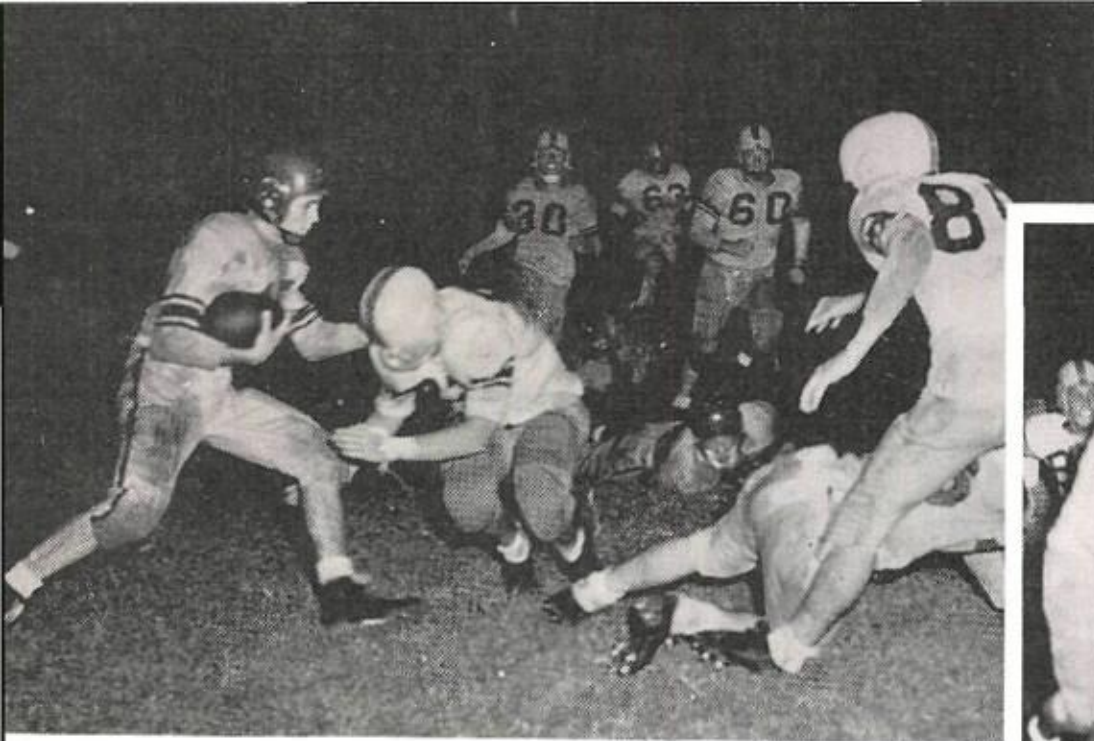

This last defeat at the hands of St. Anthony's was a bitter pill to swallow, but nevertheless there was some consolation. The Jesuit team placed six men on the all-state team.

February first was a sad day for Jesuit High, for on that day Mr. Lancaster Smith—Coach Smith to us—left our school. Now Mr. Smith, who for the last six years so generously and unselfishly gave work, sweat, and toil for our teams, is at last looking to his own future, and that of his family. He has decided to forsake the respected and beloved title of "Coach" for that of Assistant District Attorney.

We of Jesuit wish him the very best of luck in his new job and hope he is as successful in this endeavor as he has been in raising the football fortunes of Jesuit to an unprecedented high.

Varsity basketball at Jesuit is beginning to follow a pattern. Last year's team started off by losing six straight games; in the end, however, it was one of the City powers and went on to be T.C.I.L. Champ. This year the mold must have been the same, for the Ranger cagers started off slow and grew stronger as the season progressed. Their record was poor, yet deceiving. On the season record of eleven wins and eighteen losses, there were eight games in which the Rangers were defeated by three points or less.

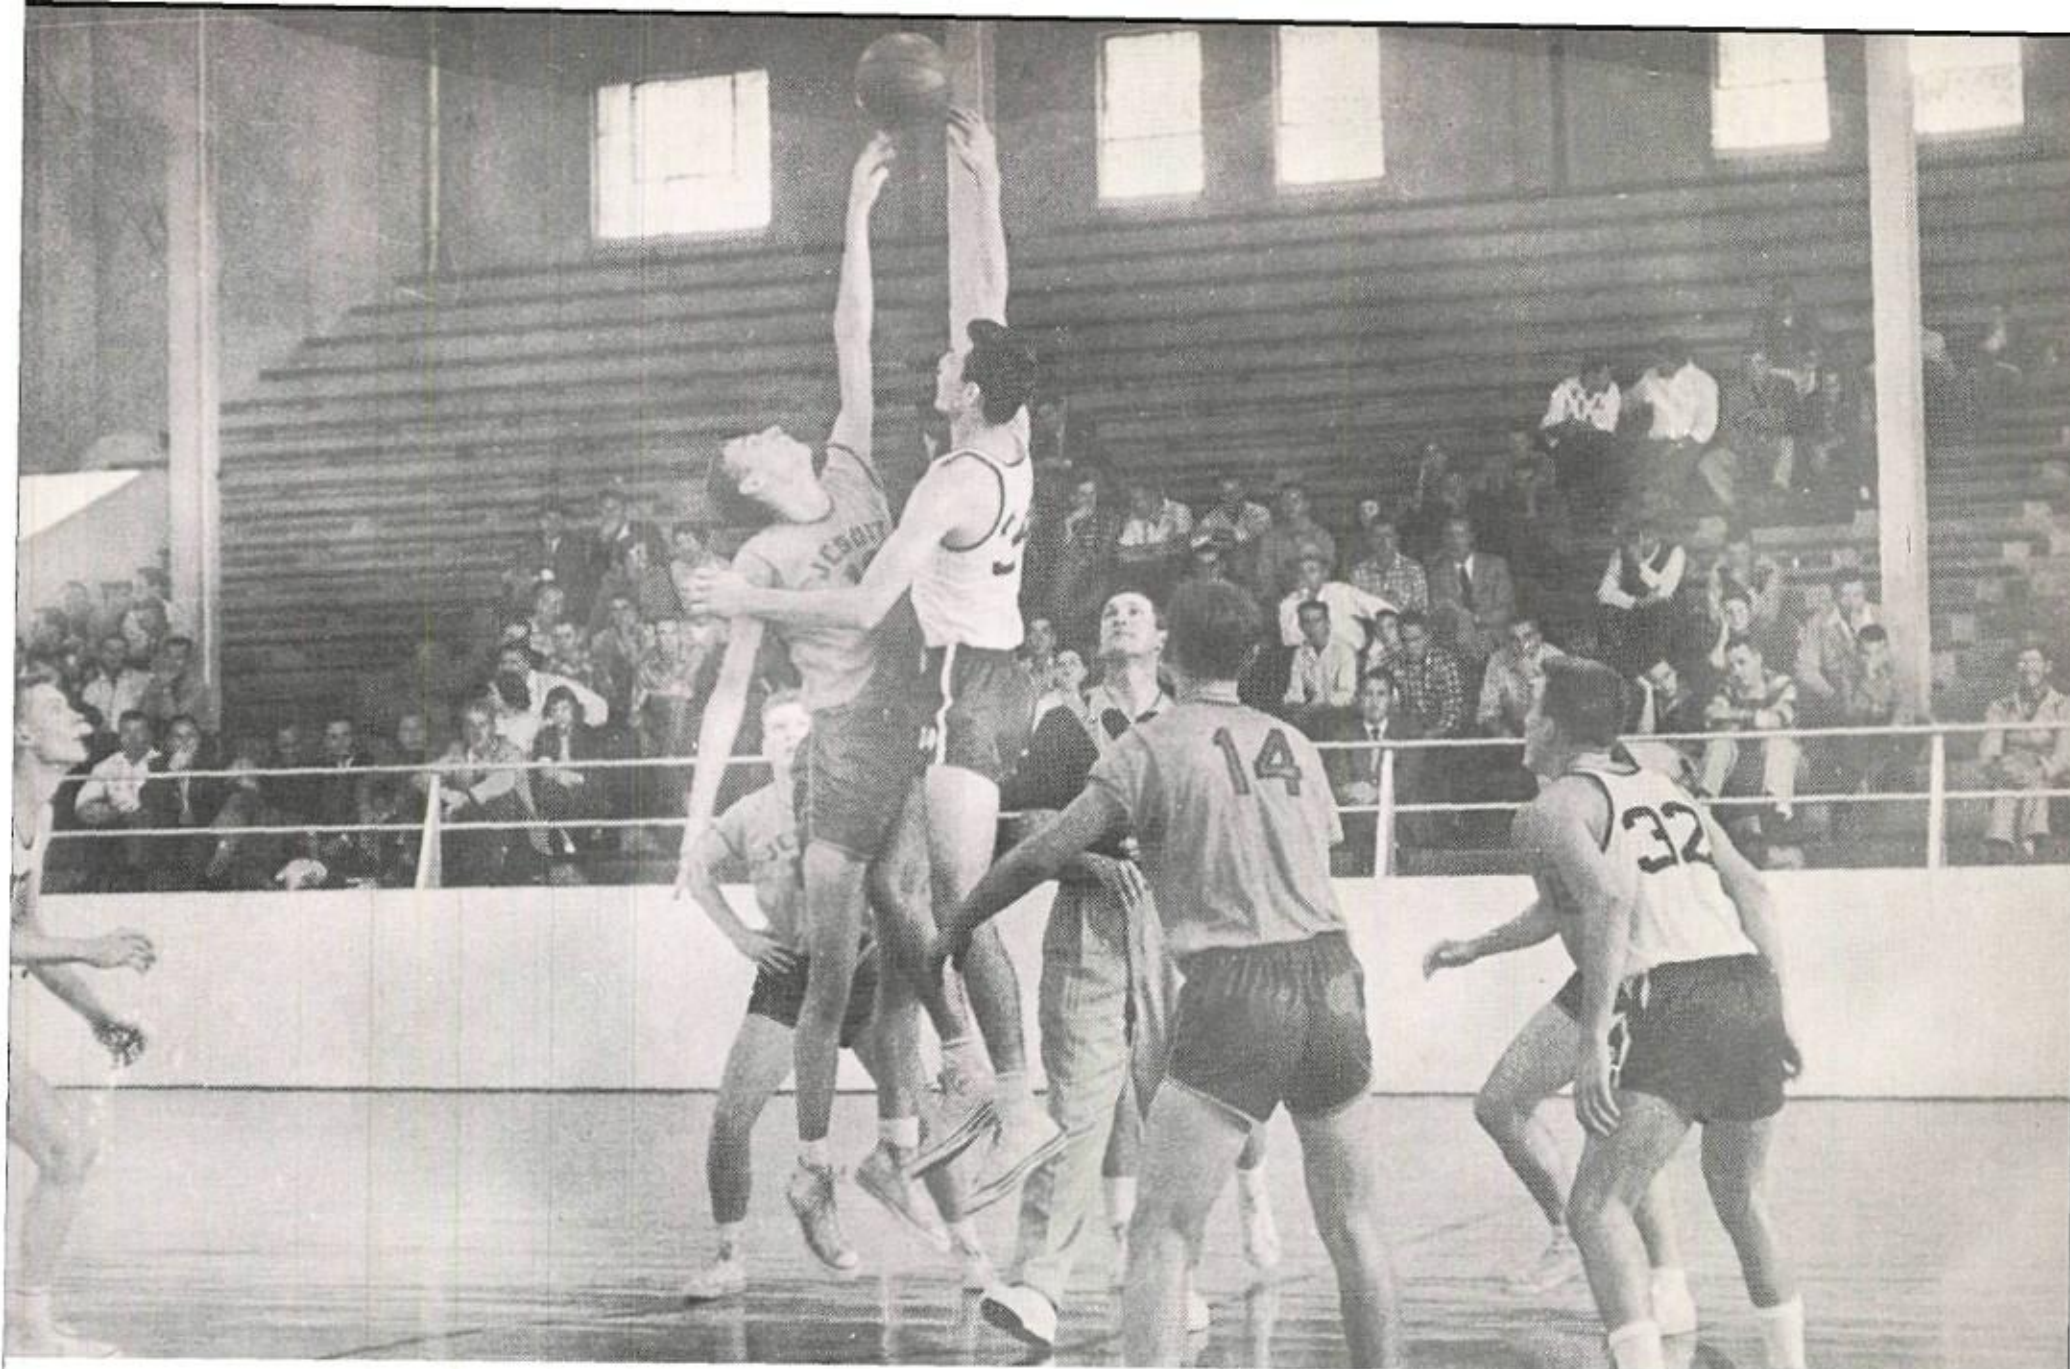

The Varsity of 1955-56, although not a winning team, was anything but a pushover. Fundamentally this was an excellent team; however, its inexperience proved fatal to it in the close ones. This team, although adept ball-handlers and aggressive board men, had a very common fault of many teams—they couldn't score.

In the T.C.I.L. Tournament, when the Rangers were defending their championship, they reached the semi-finals, where they were ousted 57-46 by a smooth, well-balanced club from El Paso. At the conclusion of the tournament "tall Paul" Sodeman was chosen to the all-state team.

Coach Bill Durick took the team a long way considering the fact that only two men who had seen any extensive service returned from last year's squad.

Al Magro drives in for a lay-up shot against Forest in the second round of the Dr. Pepper Tournament.

The looong s-t-r-e-t-c-h! "Tall Paul" reaches for the skies and the elusive ball. High, but not high enough!

VARSITY BASEBALL

ALVIN LOSTETTER, Catcher.

First-baseman, FELIX ROTELLO.

Ranger scoring hopes rest on slugger JOE BIASATTI.

The chief assets of the Jesuit Rangers are good pitching, fine team speed and an extraordinary disposition to hustle their heads off. Their main weakness is the infield. The infield is in the process of being rebuilt from the ground up. The great all-around play of Pasqua, Ruwaldt, and Co. is gone. With not one regular infielder returning, this year sees the beginning of a long reconstruction job with Felix Rotello looming as a starter at the first sacker position, the rest of the infield being wide open for all comers.

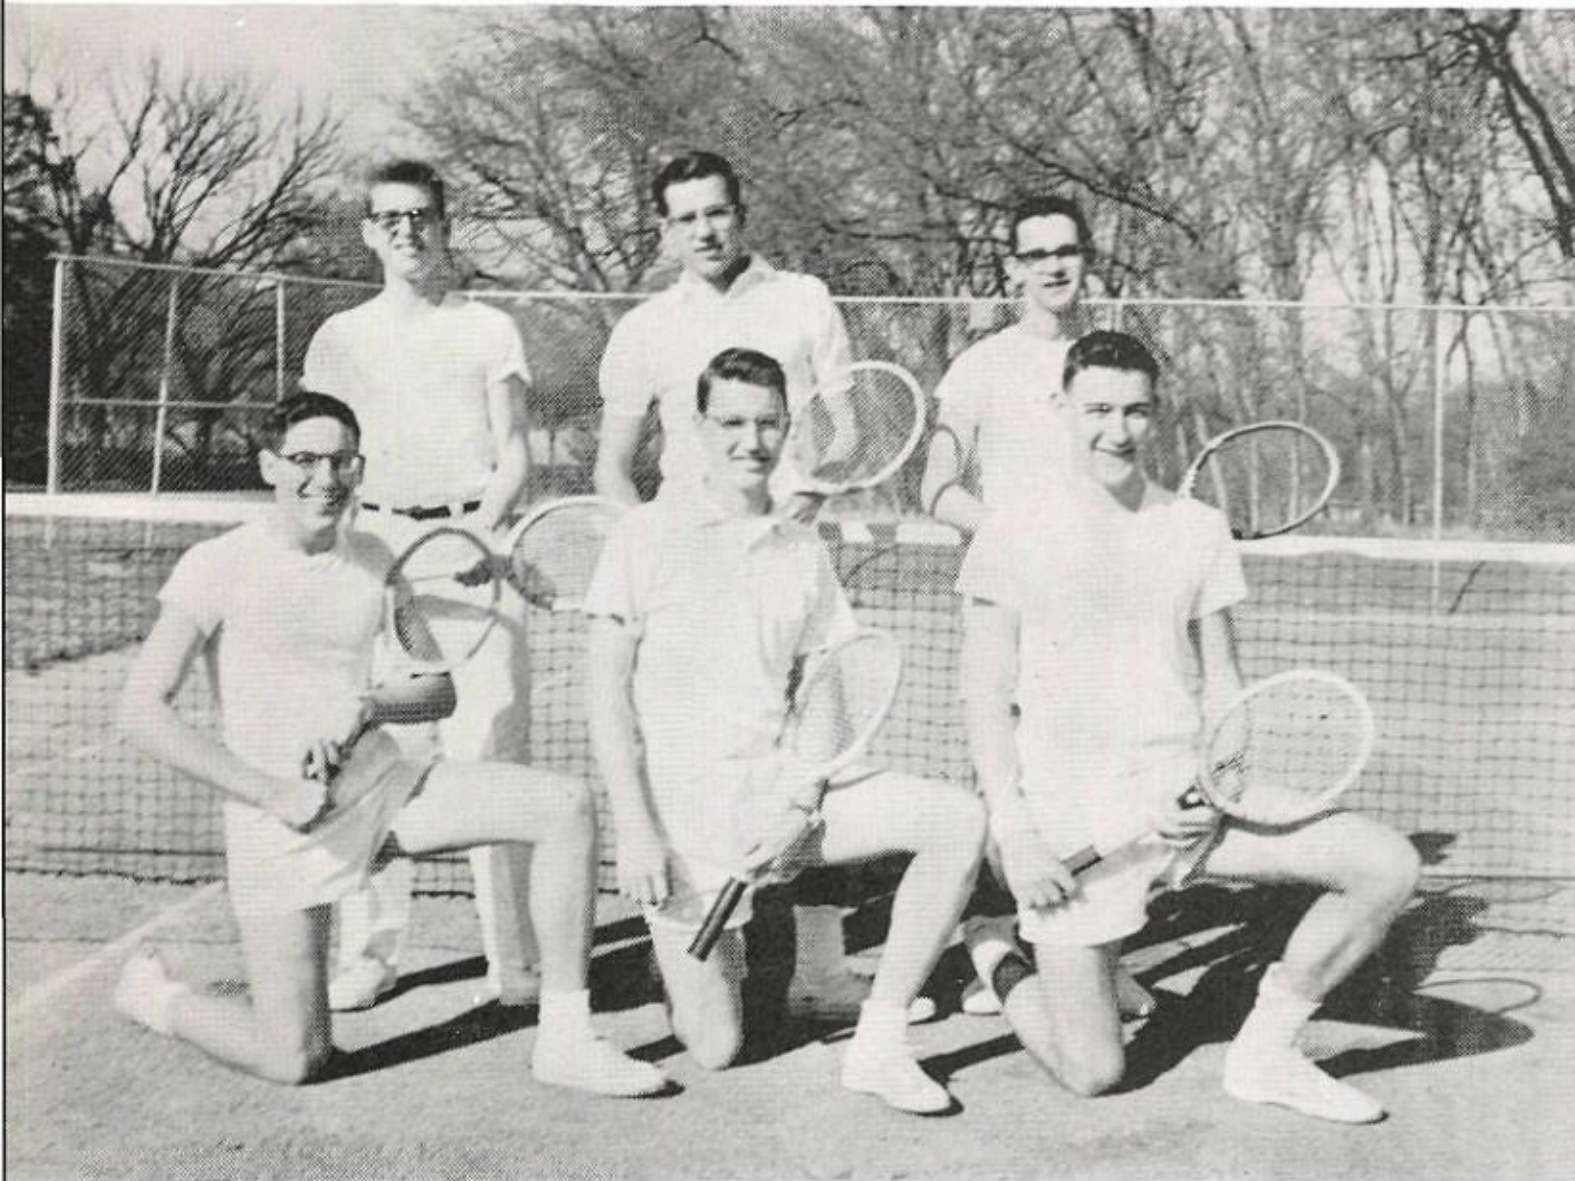

The Ranger pitching staff, which is one of Jesuit's strong points, gets good front line hurling from Tom Ruwaldt, Jim Lover, and Hector Ruiz with Jack Harper and Bill Mangelsdorf up to add depth to the bunch. The outfield, another strong point, has in Joe Biasatti, Frank Marlow, and Hector Ruiz last summer's Legion gardeners who blasted the ball at a .300 plus clip.

But with a strong pitching staff, a hard-hitting outfield, and a great catcher in Alvin Lostetter as the Ranger strong points, the much needed double play combination is still missed.

At the time of this writing, the top Ranger prospects who are battling for a starting berth are Buzz Crutcher and Dick Hull for the second base job, Jerry Foltyn and Pete O'Reilly for the hot corner, Jerry Hoedebeck and Charlie Lindley for the shortstop berth. Arnold Killeen looms as the number two backstop.

Analysis: Much depends on the infield problem. The pitching can make the Rangers tough, and if the hitters can gain their collective eyes, the Rangers can be tougher.

Last year's Rangers finished the season with a near-perfect 9-1 record, including an easy victory over Woodrow Wilson, the city champs. And since only one top player was lost through graduation, the tennis team is virtually assured of repeating this year as unofficial tops in the city. This year, too, Jesuit's netmen participated in more tournaments than before. They were invited to a state high school tourney in San Antonio March first to fourth, which marked their first overnight road trip, and also to the Woodrow Wilson invitational tournament.

At the time of this writing, the team has already defeated Sunset and North Dallas blanking both schools. Against defending champions Woodrow Wilson, they tied 2-2, but showed definitely that they would defeat W.W. in a return match. To date, the Rangers' record stands at 11-2 in individual matches, with no losses in singles. It seems likely that the Rangers' number one man, Pat Cowdin, may go through the season without a defeat.

The coaching responsibilities rest with Mr. James Callan, head coach, and Mr. Bernard "Tut" Bartzen, fourth seeded player in the United States, who quite generously helps Mr. Callan by working out with the team each week. His aid has been invaluable.

GOLF

The Jesuit golf team. Kneeling: Ron Fulton, Raymond Patak, Captain; and Fred Schellenberg. Standing: John Eury, Claiborne Johnson, Jim Obst, and Al Magro.

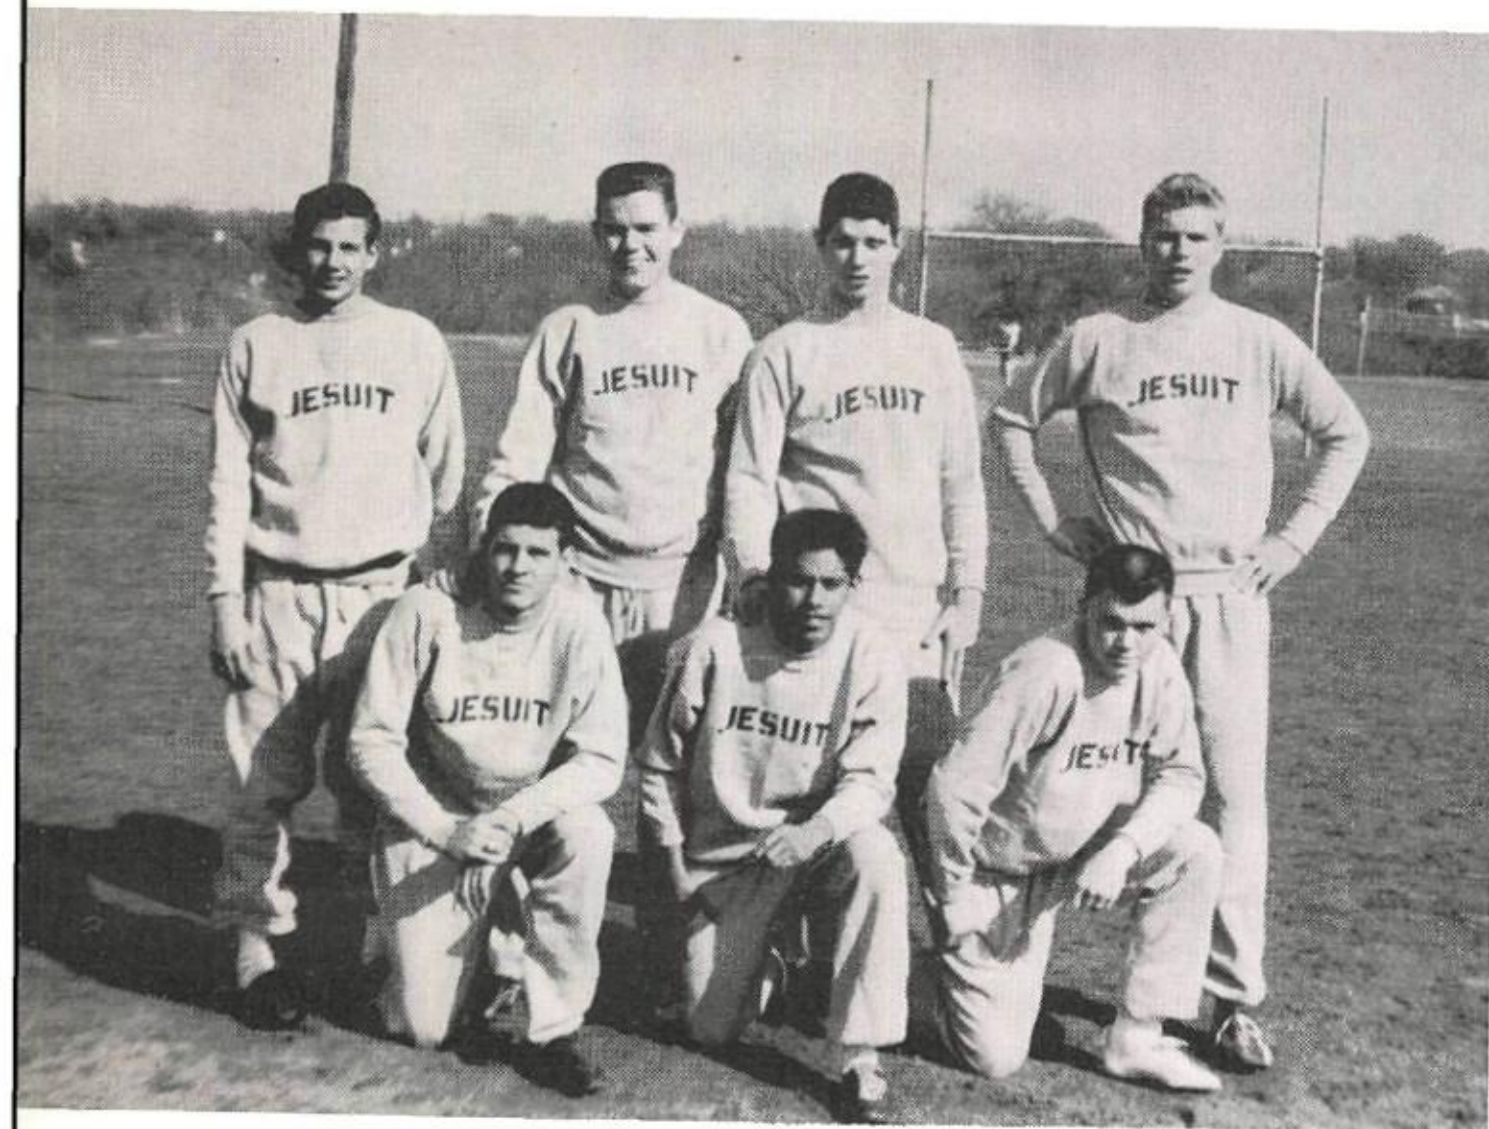

The Rangers linksmen opened their season with a 4-2 victory over Waxahachie High School on Cedar Crest golf course. But that was one of the last matches Jesuit did play on Cedar Crest, or Stevens, or Lakewood, or Preston Hollow—whichever happened to be the "home" course that particular week. For at the beginning of March the team finally settled down. Mr. Warren Higgins, Head Coach and former Notre Dame linkster, and his new assistant Mr. Tom Roberts, Assistant Pro at Dallas' new Columbian Country Club, signed an agreement with River Hills golf course, whereby any member of the Ranger squad can play there free of charge on week days. Regular practices have been held there twice a week on Monday and Thursday afternoons since then.

The fact that Jesuit at last has one course on which it will be playing consistently will give the team a big additional advantage it has not hereto enjoyed. With six of the top eight of last year's 5-2-1-record team (one loss was to the S.M.U. freshmen; the other, to Denton at Denton.) still playing, the strength of the Ranger squad is evident.

Matches, as usual, were scheduled with all the Dallas schools as well as Denton and Bonham.

Ranger track coach, Herb Schaener.

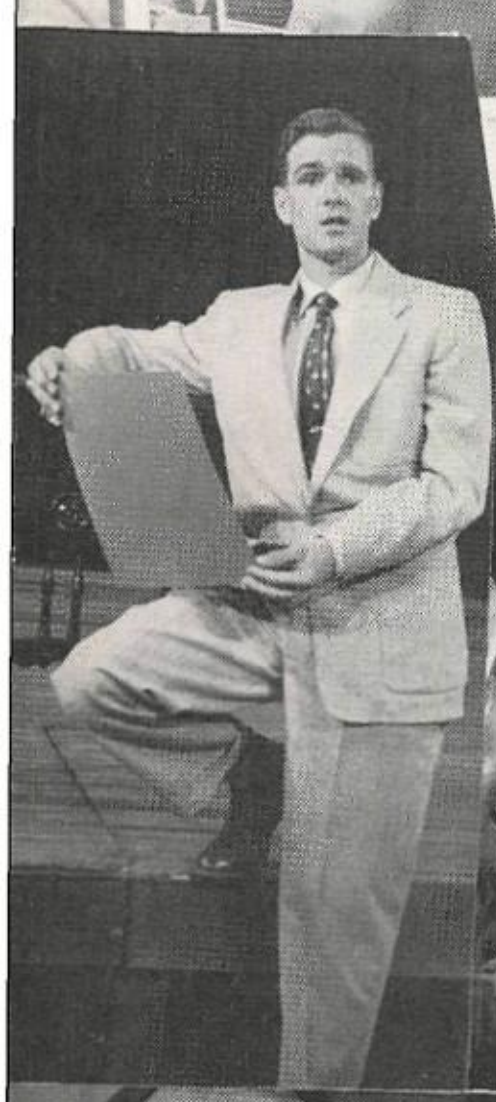

Last year was the first letters were given in track, the first to see Jesuit pit its men against those of another school in any sort of an organized field meet. But the interest shown in the sport was certainly outstanding enough to warrant its further development. Accordingly, this year the Ranger track men can take the field in new uniforms and can consider themselves members of a real first-class sports team. With their track coach, Herb Schraener, and the abundant talent represented in the returning lettermen, especially John McCleod, who promises to be one of the best 440 men in the City, the Jesuit track team is a fair match for anyone.

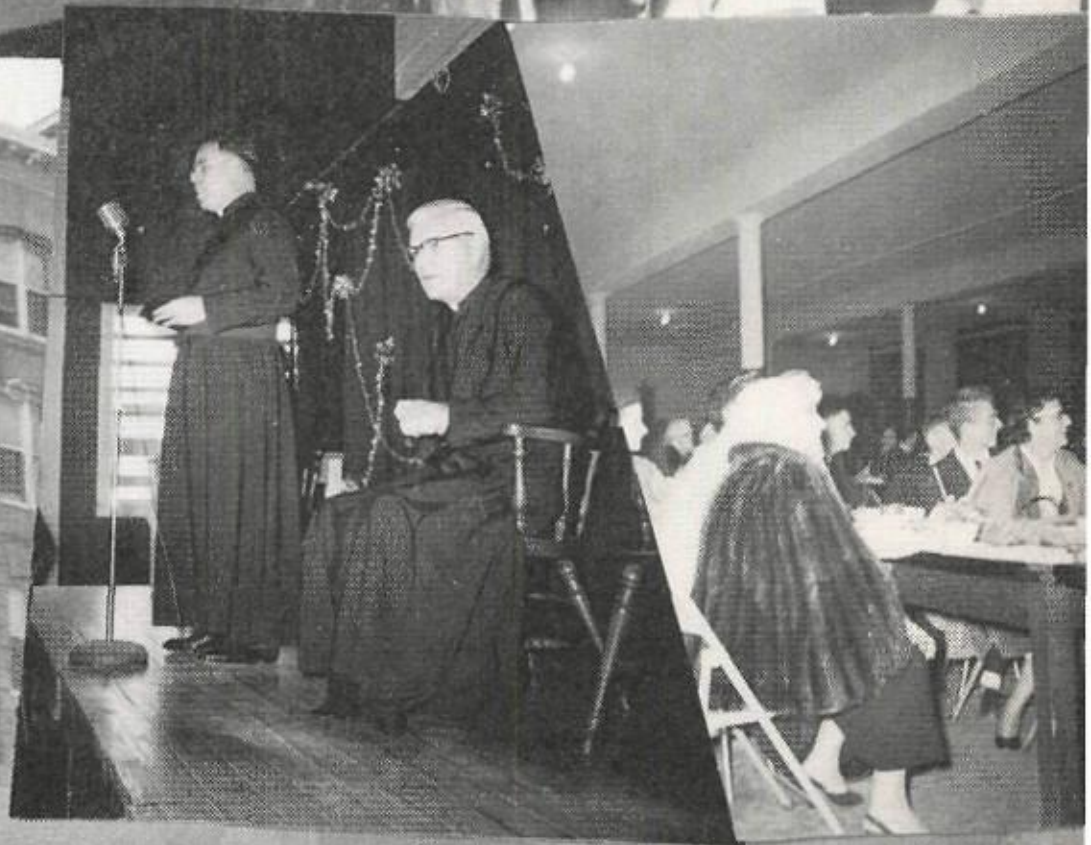

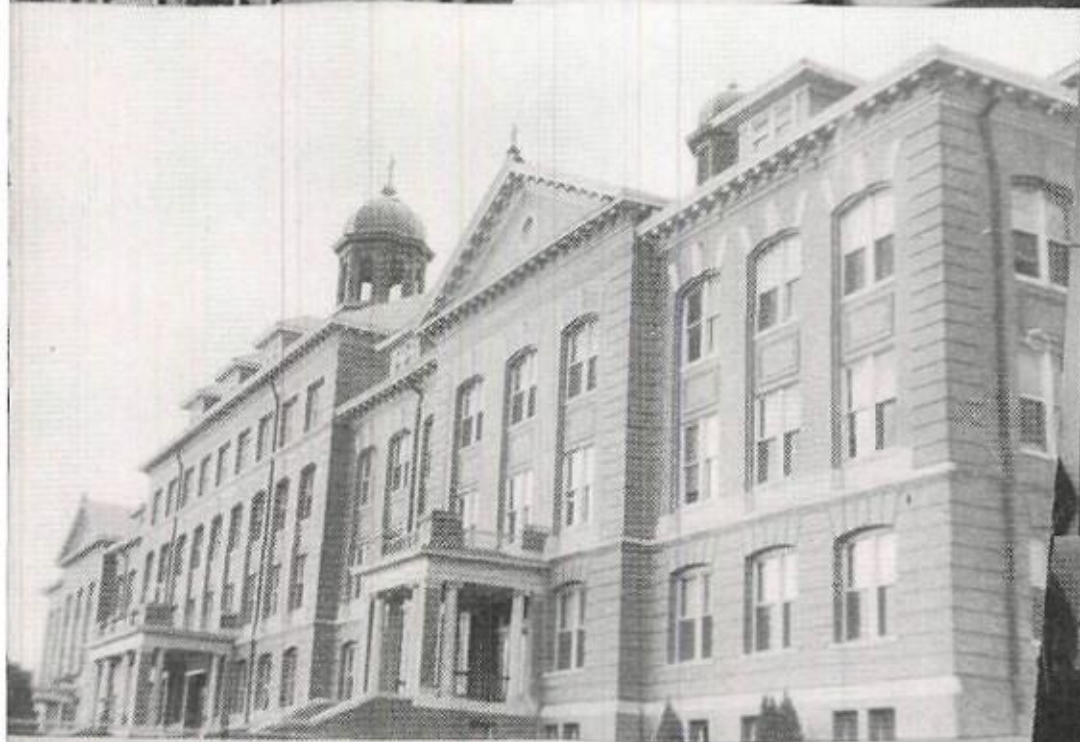

At left: Clark and White discuss the relative merits of their respective events, discus and the shot put.
